ARABS ATTACKING NEW JERUSALEM AREA AS BATTLE FOR ROAD GOES ON ### Jews, Short of Water and Food, Trying Desperately to Lift Siege of Holy City — Armor Thrown Into Fight.

By MAX BOYD

CAIRO, May 29 (AP) — Arab troops began an attack today in modern Jerusalem. Jews, short of water and food, tried desperately to break the Arab blockade of the city.

At the same time, the Israeli Army reported Egyptian troops had driven up the Palestine coast to a point within 20 miles of Jaffa, the neighboring city to Israel's capital, Vel Aviv.

Guns of Trans-Jordan's Arab Legion pounded Jewish concentrations in the new city of Jerusalem, even as raging fires swept the ancient Jewish ghetto in the old city. There Israeli remnants, with food and ammunition gone, surrendered yesterday after a five-month siege topped off by an 11-day pounding from the guns of King Abdullah's Legionnaires.

Now the Jews in all Jerusalem are under a throttling state of siege that can be ended only by the opening of supply routes to the Mediterranean coast.

"The battle for the defense of new Jerusalem and for the liberation of the old city continues," a Haganah (Jewish army) communique declared.

Battle for Highway.

Thousands of Jews and Arabs were locked in a battle west of Jerusalem for the highway from Tel Aviv which could supply the Holy City's 80,000 Jews. The Arabs threw armor, artillery, planes and all the manpower they could spare into the fight, Tel Aviv reports said.

(A United Press dispatch from Hulda, Israel, said Haganah threw an entire Jewish armored brigade with air power against the Arab Legion at Latrun today in a desperate bid to open the highway to Jerusalem.

(The dispatch said every available mortar, field gun, armored car and airplane was rushed to the battlefront to support the Jewish attack, now in its sixth day. It added that there was every indication that the first armored battle of the Palestine war may be fought out soon on the ancient plain of Shefelah.)

Fight Over 4-Mile Stretch.

The battle is being fought along a four-mile stretch from Bab el Wad gorge, through which the highway winds, to Latrun, key stronghold 15 miles from Jerusalem.

An Egyptian Defense Ministry communique said last night Egyptian bombers attacked and scattered Jewish troops concentrations at Bab el Wad. There has been intermittent fighting along the highway between Latrun and Bab el Wad since the United Nations voted for partition Nov. 29 but none of the engagements heretofore has been on the scale of the present one.

Jews fighting to break the Arab ring around Jerusalem could see smoke and flames belching from the rubble-strewn old city. Arab forces, commanding the Zion gate, let the last group of Jewish civilians—women and children, young and old—from the old city.

In the old city's police barracks, 294 Jewish men of military age were temporarily behind bars, waiting busses to take them to a camp at Amman, Trans-Jordan. Seriously wounded men, under the surrender terms accepted yesterday, were to be delivered to Jewish lines in Jerusalem, but the others of some 150 wounded may be kept prisoners.

Fires raged through the night in the Jewish quarter. The Arabs

PATIENT LOSES ARM AND LEG IN LEAP INTO SHAFT

Part-Time Minister Dragged Down Two Floors by McMillan Hospital Elevator.

Charles Ablett of Metropolis, Ill., a former postal employe and part-time Baptist minister, under treatment at McMillan Hospital for a mental ailment, suffered amputation of the right leg and arm when he attempted suicide today by leaping into an elevator shaft and was dragged down two floors by the descending elevator.

He gained access to the shaft at the third floor level by breaking through a wire-reinforced glass window, about 18 by 24 inches, at chest height in the locked door to the shaft.

He then leaped through the aperture, eluding a nurse, Miss Helen Gerber, who had seen him kicking at the glass and tried to restrain him by grabbing an arm. Other employes who heard her frantic screams arrived to late to stop him.

Meanwhile, the elevator, of the automatic push-button type, descended to the third-floor level just as he squeezed through the narrow opening into the shaft.

When attendants opened the shaft door at the first floor, they found Ablett's right leg had been badly mangled and the right arm protruding upward between the cage floor and the shaft opening.

Physicians in the hospital, at Kingshighway and Euclid avenue, one of the Barnes group, had to complete amputation of the arm and leg before he could be removed. He was taken to the operating room at Barnes Hospital for additional surgery.

Ablett remained under the elevator cage nearly an hour before attendants, policemen, firemen and an elevator technician succeeded in extricating him. He was conscious about half that time.

Ablett, in ill health for several months, entered the hospital for psychiatric treatment May 4. Physicians said Ablett's record indicated suicidal tendencies.

DR. EDWARD DOISY NAMED BY POPE TO SCIENCE ACADEMY

VATICAN CITY, May 29 (UP)—Pope Pius XII today named two Americans to the Pontifical Academy of Science.

They were Herbert Sidney Langfeld, professor of psychology and director of the laboratory of psychology at Princeton University, and Edward Adelbert Doisy, professor of biochemistry of the faculty of medicine of St. Louis University.

Dr. Doisy shared the 1943 Nobel prize for medicine for the isolation and synthesis of Vitamin K, a factor which promotes the formation of prothrombin, essential for blood-clotting. He has won many other honors. He is 54 years old and lives at 444 Sherwood drive, Webster Groves.

FATALLY SHOOTS WIFE IN ROW OVER GUESTS IN HOME

Retired Accountant, 67, Kills Woman, 48—Had Said Relatives 'Talked' About Him.

Mrs. Ruth Dalpini, 48 years old, was wounded fatally last night by her husband, Ugo, a retired accountant, who shot her twice after a bitter quarrel over Dalpini's objection to having guests in their home, 2007 McLaran avenue, Jennings.

Mrs. Dalpini died at DePaul Hospital at 11:45 p.m., about three hours after the shooting. She had been wounded in the abdomen and right arm by bullets from a .32 caliber revolver.

The shooting was witnessed by Louis Dalpini, 20 years old, one of six Dalpini children. Louis, who took the revolver away from his 70-year-old father after the shots were fired, gave the following account of the quarrel:

"Mother was sewing in the dining room about 8:30 o'clock when my father began an argument about people coming to the house. He has a quick temper, and had been angry with mother about a year. He said he didn't want relatives and friends coming in, that they 'talked' about him and he didn't want them around. Mother said the house was as much hers as it was his, and she was not going to order our friends away.

"Father went to the bathroom and when he came out he drew the revolver and fired at mother from a distance of about four feet. Mother jumped up and started running toward the living room and father continued to pull the trigger. There were several clicks, and another shot. When I grabbed the revolver, father said, 'Go ahead and call the police.' He showed no remorse, and went upstairs while I telephoned the police."

Mrs. Dalpini ran to the front porch, where officers found her. She was accompanied to the hospital by Louis and a daughter, Mrs. William Dauber, 2003 McLaran avenue.

Police Chief John Oberzt of Jennings said that when Dalpini was asked whether he shot his wife, he replied, "Yes." Later, at Clayton jail, Dalpini would say only that there had been a dispute. Examination of the revolver showed that three cartridges had misfired and two were discharged.

A first degree murder warrant was issued against Dalpini by Magistrate Joseph H. Garrett. An inquest will be held Tuesday and a preliminary hearing was set for June 9.

The other Dalpini children, besides Louis and Mrs. Dauber, are Hugo, who is Louis's twin; Richard and Victor, 19-year-old twins, and David, a student at the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla.

Girl, 14, U.S. Spelling Champion, Prays Throughout 5-Hour Bee

(Picture in Everyday Magazine)

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—Jean Chappelear is a baby-sitter who is sitting pretty today as the country's new spelling champion.

The 14-year-old eighth grade student from Ravenna (O.) Township School won the twenty-first national spelling bee yesterday when she spelled "oligarchy" correctly to defeat Darrell Flavelle, 14, of Washington, D.C.

She credited some of her success to the hours she spent studying spelling while she was baby-sitting for neighbors or for her younger brother and sister. But mostly she felt her victory was an answer to her prayers. Throughout the five hours of the bee Jean prayed. It wasn't noticeable at first.

When the going got tougher, though, she closed her eyes tight, and the audience could see her lips moving determinedly.

"I wanted so much to win," she said later, "but I never thought I would."

Longest on Record.

It was the longest national spelling bee in history. And it was longer for Jean than for the rest of the 39 contestants.

Because of her listing as No. 1 among the entrants, she started off the bee by spelling the first word. She didn't quit until she spelled the 593rd word—"psychiatrist"—to clinch her crown after Darrell had faltered on "oligarchy." To win, a contestant must spell correctly the word missed by the previous contestant, then must spell the next word right.

The girl had been working for three years for this honor. When she hasn't been spending her baby-sitting hours with Webster, she has been spelling to her mother.

Mrs. Lewis Chappelear said she wanted Jean to win so people would stop asking where Black Horse, O., is. That is their hometown. It's a community of about 300 near Ravenna and her father is a barber there.

List Too Short.

Before the bee was over, the judges had exhausted their list of 490 words and had to use 103 more before crowning the winner. No more than 389 words had ever been needed in the past.

The field narrowed down to Jean and Darrel on the thirty-seventh round when Marlene Bean, Cardington, O., fumbled "fascistic" and Rosemary Schirmer, 13, White Oak, O., slipped up on "ecclesiastical."

Darrell, who also was a finalist last year, matched Jean word for word for the next 47 rounds until he ran into "oligarchy." But neither was perfect. Both had missed on "poncho" and again on "termagant."

CHRYSLER STRIKE ENDS, UAW GETS 13C PAY RISE FOR 75,000 WORKERS

Men Returning to Jobs—Ford Co., Which Seeks Wage Cut, Only One of Auto Big 3 Still to Settle With Union.

DETROIT, May 29 (AP)—The vanguard of 75,000 Chrysler Corp. workers began trickling back into the plants today, their 17-day strike ended by a straight 13-cent-an-hour wage increase.

With their return the second major labor dispute in the automobile industry this year was written off the books.

Chrysler's settlement with the CIO United Auto Workers, announced last night, bettered by 2 cents the rise given 225,000 strike-threatening General Motors employes three days earlier.

Part of the General Motors 11-cent increase, however, is geared to the cost of living, while the Chrysler boost is not. A rise in the cost of living would be reflected in the General Motors wage, a drop would wipe out part—but could not wipe out all—of it. The Chrysler boost is a flat increase, with no flexible provision for cost-of-living changes.

Half of Original Demand.

The increase at Chrysler provided less than half the union's original demand, but more than twice Chrysler's best previous offer.

It also extended the company's contract, due to expire in 11 months, until August 1950. Either Chrysler or the UAW can seek an adjustment of wage rates once any time after June 15, 1949. Salaried employes, some of them represented by the UAW, were given an 8 per cent rise with a floor of $20 a month.

There was no official explanation as to why Chrysler settled for a flat sum rather than the widely-heralded G.M.C. sliding scale. However, a union customarily holds out for a penny or two more than the pattern for its members on strike.

Chrysler would not say whether it plans to increase car prices to cover its higher labor costs.

The UAW said the settlement would cost Chrysler $23,700,000 a year.

A company spokesman estimated the strikers lost $900,000 a day and the company lost 5000 cars and trucks a day during the tieup.

The agreement left only the Ford Motor Co. of the industry's big three yet to settle with the UAW in the third postwar wage drive. It apparently knocked a second prop from under Ford's counter-demand for a wage cut.

"Signal Victory."

The UAW promptly hailed the settlement as a "signal victory for all American workers in view of the determination of industry as a whole to fight against any wage increase at all or, in some instances, to fight for wage reductions while prices continue to rise."

Norman Matthews, UAW Chrysler director, said the strike had "cracked the solid opposition" of the auto, steel and electrical industries to pay rises this year.

Despite the settlement, only a handful of employes were called back to work today to prepare machines for production. Chrysler said assembly-line operations could not be resumed for more than a week.

Chrysler workers in 16 plants in Michigan, Indiana and California left their jobs May 12 in a demand for a 30-cent boost and several non-wage benefits. On the eve of the strike the union scaled down its demand to 17 cents. Chrysler's best previous offer was 6 cents, and that was withdrawn after the union turned it down.

The wage demand at Ford also is 30 cents, 5 more than was asked of General Motors. Negotiations with Ford are slated to start within three weeks.

$1.63 Chrysler Wage.

Chrysler's average hourly wage was boosted to $1.63, compared with G.M.'s $1.61 under the new contract there. But a slight rise in the cost of living could push G.M.'s average past Chrysler's when the first quarterly adjustment is made in September.

Ford, in asking for a pay cut two weeks ago, contended its rates were higher than those at its two principal competitors. Both G.M. and Chrysler disputed the claim.

The Chrysler agreement stipulates it must be ratified by the union's rank and file members in Chrysler plants by June 7. There seems little doubt it will be approved.

The car industry generally wound up one of its poorest production months in nearly two years today, with an indicated output of about 334,000 vehicles.

The May total was the lowest month's volume since July 1946, when the factories shipped 313,934 units. It brought the year's total to date to about 2,067,000 vehicles.

MARSHALL WARNS OF 'PEACE' TRAP, DEFENDS REBUFF OF RUSSIAN BID

Cautions People Against Impatience, Says Real Hopes Rest on a Continued Western Policy of Firmness.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall last night defended his handling of the Russian "peace" campaign and warned the West against being led into a trap baited with propaganda.

Marshall made his newest report on American foreign policy in a speech before the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Portland, Ore. It was his first full-length address since the Russian "peace offensive" opened almost three weeks ago.

Marshall's theme appeared to be that the Western powers are winning the cold war with Russia but the end is not yet in sight. He stressed that peace prospects depend mainly on a continued western policy of firmness with the Soviet Union—a policy which he said may be threatened from two sides:

1. The strong and impatient desire of people everywhere for a return to "normal conditions" may lead the West into a Russian peace trap.

2. Americans may engage in some "thoughtless or spasmodic action" which could damage the confidence of other peoples—uneasy enough at best—in the reliability of the United States as a world leader.

"Cynical Propaganda."

Marshall bluntly called the Soviet peace moves "a cynical propaganda campaign to offset a sincere effort on our part to establish a basis for profitable negotiations and agreements leading to a stabilization of the world situation." He said he thought American progress toward that end since the first of the year has been "excellent" and "history making."

Marshall repeated the United States charge that Russia distorted the meaning of Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's statement on American policy to Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov early this month. By striking out two key sentences when Smith's statement was published, Marshall said, the Russians sought to create a false impression that the United States was making overtures for a cold war settlement.

"It meant to me," he said, "that the officials of the Soviet government knew we would recognize that the purpose of their release was to gain a propaganda advantage in order to mislead the American public, in fact the world public, as to the sincerity of their desire to reach an understanding."

He summarized efforts made thus far by the United States and other nations to create peaceful, stable conditions through the United Nations and the Council of Foreign Ministers, but added that these efforts thus far have failed.

Reply to Criticism.

Noting the criticism of the State Department for its chilly reception of Moscow's hints that it was ready to "negotiate an agreement" with the United States, Marshall said:

"There is an overwhelming demand for some agreement to wipe out fear of war and to bring about a return to normal conditions, and therefore strong resentment of any statement or lack of action that appears contrary to the fulfillment of that desire.

"My friends, these great desires are impelled by deep emotions but those emotions must not lead us into ill-advised and trustful actions which hazard the future of this country. . . .

"I feel certain that the continuation of the firm course we have been following will lead to the solution of the worst of our difficulties and will eventually clear the way to a sound basis for peace. I am absolutely certain that only such a firm and determined course can save the situation for the democracies."

Trade Act Change Opposed.

Marshall said that the conduct of American policy must be consistent and reassure the worried people of Europe that they can rely on it with confidence. He declared: "The present destructive proposal for the amendment or emasculation of the reciprocal trade agreement acts is a case in point."

The Administration has asked for a three-year extension of present reciprocal trade policies. The House has approved only a one-year extension with a final veto power vested in Congress on any trade agreement reached.

Urging that there be no "thoughtless or spasmodic action" that might upset the groundwork of European recovery aid, he said:

"One particularly important aspect of our position of acknowledged leadership is the constant fear of the people of Europe that we cannot be depended upon, that we will change our minds, that we will turn from a formally adopted policy like the European Recovery Program without notice

ST. LOUIS, PEVELY CONCERNS WILL BE SENTENCED BY JUDGE TUESDAY

U.S. Says This Is First Victory in Drive Against Restraint of Trade in Food, Clothing and Building.

Attorneys for Pevely and St. Louis dairy companies today said they will seek a re-hearing of the Government charge that the companies conspired to fix prices of milk in violation of the United States anti-trust laws.

The dairies were found guilty of the charge by a jury of nine men and three women last night in United States District Judge Rubey M. Hulen's court. Six officers of the companies, who also were charged with conspiracy to fix milk prices, were acquitted by the jury, which deliberated for five hours.

James A. Finch of Cape Girardeau, attorney for the Pevely company and its five officers, the Kerckhoff brothers, said he had been instructed to file a motion for a new trial. The company is expected to appeal the decision, if the re-hearing is denied. St. Louis Dairy announced it would appeal the decision, if a new trial is denied.

Sentence Tuesday.

Judge Hulen announced, after the verdict was returned at 9 p.m., that he would impose sentence on the two companies at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The maximum penalty which can be assessed against the corporate defendants is a $5000 fine.

John R. Niesley, chief Government attorney in the trial of the case, which lasted five days, today made public a brief statement by John Ford Baecher, Washington, acting assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, in which Baecher said:

"This is the first conviction obtained since the drive against restraint of trade in the food, clothing and building industries was launched by the anti-trust division last August. Other investigations are in progress throughout the country."

Lashly Surprised.

Surprise at the verdict was expressed by Jacob M. Lashly, attorney for the St. Louis Dairy and its president, Basil M. Lide Jr.

"Evidently," Lashly said, "the verdict was the result of a compromise in the jury room. One is bound to wonder how the corporation could be found guilty of the charge and the executive, who determines price changes, be found not guilty at one and the same time.

"I thought the evidence was convincing that the uniform prices at which milk is sold here resulted from competition and not from collusion among the dairies."

Finch, also expressing surprise at the jury's verdict, said he didn't think the Government's charge had been sustained by the evidence.

Heated discussions as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants in the trial took place in the jury room during the time the jury deliberated. However, there was but a low rumble of voices audible in the corridor when Judge Hulen, shortly before the verdict was reached, instructed the bailiff to inform the jury that it was about to be called into court and sent home for the night.

A little additional time was requested and in a few minutes cheers could be heard in the jury room, indicating a verdict had been reached.

Defendants' Reactions.

Lide and the Kerckhoff brothers, all of whom were in the courtroom to hear the verdict, were tense as the jury filed into court. They relaxed as the clerk read the acquittal verdicts in each individual case, but their faces grew serious again, when the guilty verdicts for the corporations were read.

Frank A. Broe, 4938 Northland place, foreman of the jury, told reporters the jury, before leaving the jury room, had voted not to discuss their deliberations with reporters.

Lide issued a statement, protesting the innocence of his company, in which he said: "We shall continue to present the full facts of the matter with the assurance that when these facts are thoroughly understood, the innocence of our company will be apparent."

The Kerckhoff brothers declined to comment. They are: Arthur F. Kerckhoff, president; Richard D. Kerckhoff, board chairman; Daniel M. Kerckhoff, secretary; Alexander Kerckhoff, treasurer, and Elmer M. Kerckhoff, a director in the company.

The Kerckhoffs and Lide, if found guilty of the conspiracy charge, would have faced a maximum penalty of a year's imprisonment and a fine of not more than $5000.

Alleged Overt Acts.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury last February, set out seven alleged overt acts, between July 3, 1946, and Jan. 27, 1948, by which the defendant corporations and their six officers were alleged to have effected the conspiracy. The acts were price changes, six of which were increases.

HEAVY DAY FOR CITY MARRIAGE LICENSE BUREAU

June Just Around Corner and Long Holiday Unite to Cause Jam.

Cupid, armed with two arrows for his bow, gave the city marriage license bureau its busiest day in months today.

June, proverbial month for weddings, is just around the corner. In addition, the long Memorial day holiday is at hand, and people like to get married on holidays. The combination of the two created a jam at the City Hall, where long lines formed.

About 200 twosomes were served. Half of them filed applications for licenses to wed, and the other half, having given the required three days' notice and received health certificates, obtained their licenses. Mrs. Louise Wollbrinck, clerk in charge, said the number of licenses issued on Saturdays in past months has averaged 50.

Because of the rush, some of the applicants had to wait as much as an hour. But most of them, clasping hands and beaming, didn't seem to mind at all.

NERVOUS FATHER LOSES $250 WAITING FOR BABY'S BIRTH

Nervousness during the birth of his second child was blamed by Maurice A. Wadell, 4046A Cottage avenue, for the loss of $250 near the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, 630 South Kingshighway boulevard Wednesday. Wadell advertised in the Post-Dispatch yesterday offering a reward for return of the money.

Wadell, a driver for the Mountain Valley Water Co., 2930 Olive street, had $111 of the company's money, representing collections, with his own money with which he was going to pay hospital bills. Called and told to get to the hospital immediately as his wife was very ill, Wadell took a taxicab and remembers paying the driver from the roll of bills which later was lost.

Unable to see his wife, Wadell waited for some time, and during the wait went to a hamburger stand in the vicinity of the hospital but paid for the sandwich out of pocket change, he recalled. Later, informed the crisis in his wife's condition had passed, Wadell found he had lost his money.

Wadell, a veteran of six years service in the Navy, is 26 years old. His first child was born while he was in the service. His wife and the second child, a girl, are doing well.

WALLACE SAYS ANTI-RED BILL WON'T AID PEACE

Tells Senators That Mundt Measure Is 'Declaration of War on Right of Free Speech.'

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace told Senators today that "we can't have peace with Russia if we approach Russia with the atom bomb in one hand and the Mundt bill in the other." He referred to the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communism bill already passed by the House by an overwhelming vote.

Attacking the measure vigorously, Wallace told the Senate Judiciary Committee the bill represents "a declaration of war on the rights of free speech and free assembly in the United States."

Wallace arrived eight minutes late to testify at the hearing. He took a half hour to read his 3000-word statement.

Large Crowd.

A large crowd overflowed the room and spilled out into corridors, curious to see and hear the former Vice President who is a third-party candidate for President. Except for applause by some when Wallace entered and brief outbursts of laughter the audience was orderly.

Wallace made only minor changes as he read his text. When he finished, the Senators put but few questions to him.

He remarked that he is a believer in "old-fashioned Americanism." He emphasized his opposition to the law dealing with Communism.

Then Wallace noted that Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court has said there are fewer than 100,000 Communists in the country.

Attacks "Thought Control."

In answer to questions by Chairman Wiley (Rep.), Wisconsin, Wallace said the Government now has ample laws to deal with any subversive acts, and he hopes it never has laws that aim at ideas or "thought control."

He told the committee that, "as the bill is framed, its penalties can be vested upon every organization which espouses the cause of world peace and progress," and added:

"The Mundt bill would empower the Attorney General to proscribe our party and visit criminal penalties upon its members, in the event that it refused—as it most certainly would—to register with him."

(The United Press reported that Wallace said his party would defy the bill if it became a law.)

Shortly before Wallace testified, Socialist Norman Thomas told the

Parade---Drums, Bugles and All---Going to Boy Who Can't Go to It

WESTBROOK, Me., May 29 (AP)—David Gagnon, 9 years old, can't go to the Memorial day parade but parade units are going to go to him—first.

David is resting at home between hospital treatments for burns that necessitated more than 100 operations in 25 months.

From a window of his home he recently heard the Catholic Action Crusaders drum and bugle corps practicing for the Monday march. He asked Drum Major Victor J. Ledoux if the musicians could "march by my house on the way to the parade so I can see them?"

Ledoux thought he could arrange that—and more.

The next night the uniformed crusaders marched by the boy's window and brought smiles to his face.

It's been a nightly performance since in good weather.

The municipal parade marshal heard of David and his wish. He lined up Company D, 103rd Infantry combat team, of the National Guard; a platoon of police and his aids.

They will march by David's house an hour before the parade's scheduled start, and there may be more organizations signed up before the holiday.

As an added touch, Mayor Ernest O. Porell contributed a large American flag which the crusaders will present to the youngster they call "the best soldier in Westbrook."

David sleeps under a "tent" rigged on his bed to prevent the bedclothes from touching his body, burned from waist to feet when he stamped out a fire in April, 1946.

BITTER 4-POWER BERLIN SESSION LASTS 15 HOURS WITH NO ACCORD

Russian Says He Won't Even Sit Next to American at Kommandatura Meetings—Early Breakdown Forecast.

BERLIN, May 29 (AP)—A bitter 15-hour meeting of the four-power body for governing Berlin ended early today with the Soviet representative announcing he would no longer sit next to his American counterpart.

Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commander of Berlin, said he would no longer be seated next to Col. Frank Howley, the American commander, at meetings of the Kommandatura, the four-power governing body. A Soviet deputy will be placed between them, Kotikov added.

The meeting was the longest and perhaps the most acrid in the history of the Kommandatura. It caused American officials to repeat their belief that the Allied supervisory council for Berlin would soon cease to function.

"I don't think the Kommandatura will last long now," said one American official. "There was an obvious increased move by the Russians today to close it down."

Kotikov preceded his announcement on seating with a long statement in which he accused the Americans and British of "trying to divide Berlin" as the major occupation zones have been split.

Maj. Gen. E. O. Herbert, the British representative, said at one point in the meeting: "I would like to warn the Soviet commandant that he is not the dictator of Berlin. He is merely one of four commandants."

This came during a discussion of Soviet action in setting up new regulations for shipping parcel post from Berlin to western Germany.

No major decisions were reached during the meeting. Another session will be held June 11, but Kotikov refused to schedule meetings a full month ahead as has been the practice. He said he had authority only to schedule one meeting at a time.

An American official said: "There was no hope of getting any agreements. The entire meeting was dominated by a spirit of deliberate blocking of progress by the Russians."

Both Herbert and Howley told Kotikov they intended to report "gross interferences by Soviet zonal authorities in the affairs of Berlin" to their commanders in chief.

At one point in the meeting Kotikov refused to return Soviet representatives to the Kommandatura's Public Safety Committee from which they walked out recently.

He demanded that the British commander first reprimand his representative "for pounding the table" during efforts by the Western powers to get at the reasons for removal of a Soviet sector police chief without prior approval of the Kommandatura.

"With the crime rate as high as it is in Berlin, the Soviet walkout from the Public Safety Committee is a very serious matter," an American spokesman said.

Howley read the names of four Soviet sector police officials who he said had criminal records. He also listed nine instances since last August in which he charged policemen from the Russian sector of Berlin and the Russian zone committed illegal arrests or kidnapings in the American sector.

Meanwhile, the Russians demanded that the Western powers abandon plans for currency reform in western Germany. The Berlin press carried a statement by Lt. Gen. M. I. Drativin, deputy Soviet military governor, denouncing a recent statement by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin that currency reform was necessary and would be carried out regardless of Russian participation.

Drativin claimed the Western powers and not the Russians had obstructed attempts to adopt a Germany-wide currency reform. He added: "The institution of a separate currency reform for the western occupation zones will represent a further and very serious act violating the Potsdam agreement which will severely damage German economic recovery.

"The Soviet Union holds that uniform currency reform for all Germany is the only right course."

Four-power talks on a mutual German currency reform were broken off early in April with the suspension of the Allied Control Council meeting."

6 KILLED, TRAPPED BY FIRE IN CHICAGO APARTMENT HOUSE

Picture in Everyday Magazine.

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Six persons died today in a roaring fire that spread with terrific speed through a three-story apartment building on the southwest side. An undetermined number of persons fled from the building.

Fire Marshal Anthony Mullaney said the blaze, of undetermined origin, spread so quickly that rescuers were able to save only one of seven persons trapped on the second and third floors.

Earlier seven persons were injured in another fire which damaged a three-story apartment building about a mile away, that fire, smaller, also of undetermined origin, caused damage estimated by fire department officials at $2500.

An immediate investigation of the larger fire was started by Earl Downes, fire department attorney.

Four of the victims were identified as Frank Duffex, 70 years old, owner of the building; Mrs. Lyle Wilkins and her son, John, 4; and Kiren Callaghan, 40. The bodies of the other two victims were believed to be those of Albert Stuczynski and his wife, Rose.

A police squad which discovered the blaze aroused most of the tenants and carried one woman, Mrs. Irma Keller, 48, from the building. The lone person rescued from the upper floors was Lyle Wilkins, husband and father of two of the victims.

The damage was estimated at $11,000.

Jerusalem's Old City in Flames As Surrendered Jews File Out

Fires Attributed to Exploding Mines—Victorious Arabs Show Kindness to Survivors of 11-Day Battle.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

INSIDE THE OLD CITY OF JERUSALEM, May 29 (AP)—Jerusalem's ancient ghetto lay a burning, gutted hulk today, its people all departed.

The last of the pathetic group of Jewish civilians—women and children, young and old — filed through Zion gate, now held by the Arab Legion, shortly after midnight. They trudged through the shell-scarred Church of Dormition —reputed scene of the Virgin Mary's death—and crossed over to Haganah's lines.

It required more than six hours for the shabby, frightened group, estimated at more than 1500, to leave the walls of the old city and return to Jewish hands. Many carried bundles containing their few worldly possessions.

An Arab soldier fell wounded early this morning at Zion gate when sniping suddenly broke out there, coincident with attacks against Jaffa and Damascus gates.

Dr. Pablo de Azcarte y Florez, representing the United Nations in Palestine, was standing with the Arab Legion field commander when news of the Arab casualty was received.

'Only a Provocation.'

"It's only a procovation," he said. "Please keep pushing the civilians right along."

The Arab commander complied.

In the old city's police barracks 294 Jewish men of military age were temporarily behind bars, while the Legion brought more than a dozen busses to take them to an interment camp in Amman, Trans-Jordan.

From the Jewish military hospital in the burning Ghetto, Legionnaires helped carry 150 Jewish wounded to the safety of the Armenian Quarter school.

Seriously wounded Jews, according to the surrender terms, are to be delivered to Jewish lines in Jerusalem. Others, if of military age, may be kept prisoner.

A Swiss official of the International Red Cross who remained with the Jewish wounded overnight commended the Arab Legion on its conduct.

"They carried old women in their arms to Zion gate," he said. "They slaved for hours carrying the wounded from that burning hell out there to this school."

The Arab Legion commander in Jerusalem reported early today "not a single Jew has been harmed since the surrender."

Explanation of Fires.

The Legion attributed fires which raged througout the night to Jewish mines which exploded from time fuses after the surrender was concluded at 2:30 p.m. yesterday. Some troops also claimed the Jews purposely kindled fires just before the evacuation of the rubble-strewn quarter adjoining the southern wall.

The Legion said 86 Jews died in the 11-day battle with Trans-Jordan forces.

committee that the "third party" supporting Henry Wallace for President is controlled to a large extent by Communists.

Thomas, presidential candidate of the Socialists, also opposes the Mundt-Nixon bill. After criticising the measure already approved by the House, Thomas was asked by Senator Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi: "Do you think the third party supporting Mr. Wallace is controlled by Communists?"

"Yes, it is to a large extent," Thomas replied quickly, and then said he had better explain this.

Says Wallace Isn't Red.

Thomas said Wallace is not a Communist and the majority of his enthusiastic supporters are not, but the Wallace movement is "influenced by well-trained and very well-disciplined Communists."

Thomas asserted also that the American Communist party and movement are under foreign control from Russia.

In a 3000-word statement, Wallace, former Vice President and Cabinet member, insisted that the measure extends far beyond its aim to shackle the Communist party.

Terming it "the most subversive legislation ever to be seriously sponsored in the United States Congress," he declared:

"Here is a bill which purports to guard against dictatorship. Yet it makes the Attorney General . . . a dictator over every organization in the land. He is given virtually unlimited power to brand and outlaw the association of our people for the peaceful advocacy of common objectives."

Cites Nazi Law.

The only precedent for such authority, said Wallace, is "the power given to the Nazi Minister of the Interior by the first laws passed after Hitler's accession to power."

He referred to Hitler's campaign against the Communists as a "lesson that the suppression of the constitutional rights of Communists is but the prelude to an assault upon the liberties of all the people.

"In Germany, Communism was the ostensible target, but the real victims were the citizens of every state in Europe and our own."

Turning to America's relations with the Soviet Union, Wallace said:

"We must not suffer ourselves to be deluded about a false and groundless clamor about Russian influence and a Russian party in this country." He said the Mundt-Dixon bill is justified by its supporters "in the name of a cold war against Russia," and commented: "The first victims of the cold war are the American people themselves."

Wallace quoted the bill drafted by Representatives Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota, and Nixon (Rep.), California, as declaring the Communist movement presents a "clear and present danger to the security of the United States," and added: "We already have plenty of laws on the books to protect the nation, its citizens and institutions from the dangers that Mr. Nixon asserts are the subject of the Mundt bill."

MOSCOW SAYS U.S. MAPS IGNORE SOVIET NORTH POLE STATION

Base Established in 1937 of Great Scientific Importance, Broadcast Asserts.

LONDON, May 29 (AP) — The Moscow radio said last night that the presence of a Russian scientific station at the North Pole is ignored by American maps. The broadcast said the existence of the station was omitted "by a strange oversight" in the National Geographic Society's maps of Canada, Alaska and Greenland.

The Moscow commentator said he was quoting from an article written by the Soviet Arctic authority, N. Zubov, in Moscow's Literaturnaya Gazeta. The article said "the organization of the Soviet polar station on May 21, 1937, was an event of tremendous scientific importance."

It added that "the very fact that such a station was set up with the assistance of four heavy aircraft was of great significance, if only because it proved how considerable and complete was the knowledge of Soviet polar workers about the ice of the central Arctic, and how experienced Soviet polar flyers had become."

"As soon as Soviet power was established, a planned offensive on the Arctic was launched along the whole northern boundary of the Soveit Union," the Zubov article continued. "This offensive had been conducted with the most modern technical means. Geographical stations have been established farther and farther north, and sea and air expeditions have penetrated closer and closer to the pole."

The Russian writer said setting up the pole station "was the natural culmination of a definite stage in Soviet mastery of the Arctic."

blamed Jewish mines which they said exploded from time fuses after the surrender was concluded. Some Arabs said the Jews kindled fires purposely before the evacuation of the quarter.

A dispatch from inside the old city said the Ghetto looked like a chunk of blasted Stalingrad. The stench of death was heavy. Some Jewish bodies lay unburied and others had been covered hastily with thin layers of rubble.

Zionist leaders estimated there were less than 1500 in the old city when it surrendered.

Wild jubilation reigned last night in Amman when news of the surrender spread. A Trans-Jordan communique estimated the total who surrendered at 2000.

Arab planes conducted raids throughout the Holy Land yesterday.

An Egyptian communique said high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped on the settlements of Hulda and Abu Shusha, 17 to 18 miles southeast of Tel Aviv. Air attacks were also reported on the settlement of Khalda.

Tel Aviv Raided Again.

Fighter bombers attacked the northern district of Tel Aviv again last night. An unidentified plane dropped two bombs on Natanya, coastal city 18 miles north of Tel Aviv, but they failed to explode.

A Syrian army communique in Damascus said last night Arab aircraft had attacked the Jewish settlements of Ashdot Yaakov and Deganya in northern Palestine and inflicted heavy losses on an enemy supply convoy.

The communique said aircraft also dropped Arab League leaflets on settlements in Acre, Tiberias and Hula, all in the northern sector.

An indication that Israel's war machine needs oil was seen in a report from Haifa that the Government of Israel had offered to guarantee the flow of oil products to the Arab states, if they provide oil for the Haifa refinery.

A British informant said the Iraqi Petroleum Co. pipeline which supplied the refinery could be operated at once, if an agreement could be reached.

A Jewish Government representative said he was prepared to supply the labor to operate the refinery and also to train Arabs for similar work.

Before the Jewish-Arab war, oil was piped to Haifa from the rich northern Iraqi oil fields. It was estimated the huga Haifa plant furnished about 90 per cent of the petroleum needs for the eastern Mediterranean, including nearby Arab states.

The refinery is owned by the British Admiralty and controlled by the Consolidated Refineries, Ltd. It normally processes more than 100,000 barrels of oil daily.

Churchill Accuses Laborites of Mismanaging Palestine Issue.

PERTH, Scotland, May 29 (AP) —Winston Churchill said last night the Labor government's handling of Palestine was "an outstanding case of mismanagement."

"If the Government had laid down the mandate when I first advised them to do so, it would have been a melancholy event," the former Prime Minister said in an address to Scottish Conservatives. "But the results would have been immeasurably less destructive and damaging than what has happened and is happening now."

He said it would have been possible to have made "an equitable partition" of the Holy land after Britain's world war victory, "using the forces we had and the influence and reputation we had acquired."

Churchill said British affairs "had been handled with so much clumsiness and lack of mental grip that we might well be involved in a dispute with the United States at a time when good relations are indispensable to us."

Family Put Out Over Non-Eviction After Fighting It for Two Years

NEW YORK, May 29 (UP) — When a Brooklyn family gets ready to be evicted, it wants to be evicted—and no fooling around. That's what caused all the turmoil at the McCormack residence yesterday. Thomas McCormack, his wife, and their five children had fought eviction for two years. The owner had sold the house, and the new landlord wanted it for himself.

The McCormacks had fought a long fight before the City Rent Control Commission. They had won extension after extension.

Yesterday, they were at the end of the rope. The city marshal, Charles Levy, arrived at 9:30 a.m. with a moving crew. The McCormacks were ready.

But the crew refused to move them. They wanted more than the $5 a man that Levy was going to pay. The marshal told the McCormacks he would come back Tuesday with another crew and do the job.

The McCormacks let go. Nobody, they said, was going to stop them from being evicted. Mrs. McCormack, who was not well, had worked hard packing their belongings. The furniture was dismantled, the dishes in barrels, the children's toys in paper wrappings.

Besides, they had made plans to separate, with the children going to live with relatives. The marshal left.

The McCormacks decided just to leave the furniture there and go ahead and leave. They did.

"Nuisance" — Tenants Decorated and Put in New Refrigerator.

CHICAGO, May 29 (UP)—Judge Joseph Hermes denied an eviction petition because he and landlord Martin Baron couldn't agree on the definition of a nuisance.

Martin asked Baron whether two woman tenants were tearing up the apartment.

"Oh, no," Baron replied, "but they made a nuisance by decorating the place and installing a new refrigerator."

RUSSIA ATTACKS BRITISH PALESTINE PROPOSAL IN U.N.

Gromyko and Cadogan Clash as Council Moves Toward Vote on Plans to Halt War.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 29 (UP)—Russia accused Britain before the United Nations Security Council today of pursuing a policy of "hypocrisy and cynicism" in Palestine. Britain, in reply, called the charge "vulgar abuse."

The exchange came as the Council moved toward a vote on sharply conflicting Russian and British proposals for dealing with the Palestine warfare. Neither appeared likely to be adopted in its present form.

Russian Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko attacked the British proposal for a four-week cease fire during which the flow of arms and men to Palestine would be barred. He charged that it was designed to pave the way for punitive U.N. action against the Jewish "victims of aggression" and that it would merely pour more oil on the Middle East fire.

Reply by British Delegate.

British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan said Gromyko "surpassed even his own bad record" for "vilification" and lack of "good arguments."

Cadogan charged that the Russian resolution for "ordering" an unconditional cease-fire in the Holy Land would only worsen the situation. He asked: "If supporters of the Soviet proposal are not ready to promise use of troops as a last resort, ought we to start blindly down this road to strong intervention?"

The Council planned to vote first on the United States-supported Russian plan. It would brand the fighting as a threat to peace and open the way to use of economic or military sanctions against whichever side refused to obey the cease-fire order. Arabs oppose the proposal.

Similar Plan Defeated.

Last Saturday virtually the same plan, introduced by the United States, got only five votes and lost. Seven affirmative ballots in the 11-nation Council are needed for approval. Only the United States, Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, France of Colombia have indorsed it.

Two other proposals were introduced yesterday by France and Colombia.

France wants the Council to concentrate on stopping the warfare in Jerusalem. The plan would call on Jews and Arabs to cease fighting in the Holy City with a threat of strong measures if there was not complete compliance.

Colombia asks the Big Five powers to consult on measures to enforce compliance with two previously ignored cease-fire appeals from the Council. Under this plan a five-nation commission also would be set up to seek a peaceful settlement.

MARSHALL WARNS AGAINST 'PEACE' TRAP BY RUSSIA

and without regard to the devastating effect of such vacillation."

Therefore, he declared, 'it is very important to maintain the reputation for the integrity of action of this Government."

U. S. Policy on Propaganda.

Marshall said also that the American Government must not resort to propaganda devices which would gain immediate advantages yet "reflect on the integrity of our purpose or actions in the future." He thus replied to critics who have accused the State Department of failing to meet the propaganda challenge of the Soviet "peace" offensive with effective counter-propaganda.

The Soviet Union, Marshall said, enjoys a short range advantage in conducting diplomacy because its government can maneuver without the complete freedom of expression and debate which exists in the democracies.

"Such a method enjoys great advantages for the moment," he said. "In the end, I think it will defeat itself, if history is a true indication of probabilities. But in the short term issues, like those of the present period: it does present great difficulties for us.

"For example, we have today a heated public discussion as to what is the proper procedure for this government in its relations with the Soviet Union—a discussion which largely ignores the fact that we are faced with a deliberate, cynical propaganda campaign to offset a sincere effort on our part to establish a basis for profitable negotiations and agreements leading to a stabilization of the world situation."

WORLD COURT SAYS RUSSIA HAD NO RIGHT TO ATTACH CONDITIONS TO U.N. VOTE

THE HAGUE, May 29 (AP)

THE International Court of Justice ruled yesterday that Russia had no legal right to cast its conditional vote last year for admission of Italy and Finland to the United Nations.

The Soviet Union voted to accept these nations if Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria were admitted at the same time. None of the five nations was admitted. The U.N. General Assembly voted Nov. 17, 1947, to ask the court for an advisory opinion on the legality of such an action.

The court ruled 9 to 6 that no condition could be attached to such a vote except those which might be provided for specifically in the U.N. Charter.

(Andrei A. Gromyko, who cast the Russian vote, said at Lake Success the court is not authorized to "make an interpretation on membership applications." He said all applications should be considered again, and that Russia would express its position whenever the applications came up again.)

DEFEAT OF SMUTS CREATES ANXIETY IN BRITISH PRESS

Fear of Repercussions on Defense Plans Voiced—Shares Drop $100,000,000 on London Exchange.

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—London newspapers devoted their editorial columns today to an assessment of Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts's defeat as Prime Minister in the Union of South Africa.

The Daily Mail said Tuesday elections could have "serious repercussions" on imperial defense plans. These plans, since the withdrawal from Palestine and weakening of the British hold in the Suez Canal area of Egypt, call for establishment of Britain's main rear base in East Africa. Such a base would depend largely on South Africa for support.

Financial editors focused their attention on yesterday's stock market tremors that rocked gold share values and disturbed prices in all corners of the exchange. The resignation of Smuts sent South African gold and industrial shares down on the London Exchange by a total of $100,000,000.

Plea Against Hasty Selling.

The Financial Times urged British investors not to be hasty in disposing of their South African holdings.

"Two factors may play a large part," it said. "The first, obviously, is the Government's small majority. The second may be its desire to maintain and even increase the English vote which has so unexpected a part in this week's election. These factors may swing the odds against the introduction of drastic new policies during the Government's immediate term of office."

The Communist Daily Worker headlined its story "Fascism Wins in South Africa." "As usual," it said, "the 'middle way' has turned out to be the short cut to victory of extreme reaction and open Fascism."

Winston Churchill, speaking in Perth, Scotland last night, predicted South Africa would undergo "a period of anxiety and perhaps temporary eclipse." He said "it is our duty to work in good will and harmony with the new government returned by a free, fair election characteristic of the British Commonwealth."

Smuts Sees Party Leaders.

Smuts, 78-year-old veteran Empire statesman, resigned as Prime Minister yesterday. Dr. Francois Malan, 74, advocate of a policy of isolation from British Empire affairs and strict segregation of non-Europeans, has been called on to form a new government.

Smuts met with his United party leaders at Pretoria today to discuss whether he will remain in politics. They were pressing him to stay, despite the defeat suffered at the hands of the Nationalists in the parliamentary elections.

In Johannesburg, some political observers felt the Nationalist-Afrikaner party coalition's narrow majority may become increasingly difficult and that another general election is inevitable within the next few months.

Among Nationalists elected to Parliament is at leat one who was interned during the last war, and a number of others who openly sympathized with the Germans. Descendants of German immigrants are numerous in the Nationalist and Afrikaner parties.

Malan himself has disavowed the support of Nazis and Fascists, and the leaders of the party call themselves democrats.

BENES HASN'T PUT NAME TO CZECHS' NEW CONSTITUTION

Speculation He May Resign—U.S. Envoy Finds Him in 'Relative' Good Health.

PRAGUE, May 29 (AP)—President Eduard Benes has not signed Czechoslovakia's new constitution, and there is no indication that he will, it was disclosed today.

The President's failure to approve formally the "people's democracy" constitution adopted by a purged Parliament May 9 led to speculation that he may not continue in office. Official word on Benes's future intentions could not be obtained. The President and all of his principal aids were unavailable.

There was talk in Prague that Benes, who observed his sixty-fourth birthday yesterday, would resign after tomorrow's Communist-dominated single-slate election. This talk was plainly labeled as speculation, however.

The Ministry of Information confirmed that Benes has not yet signed the new constitution, but pointed out he has until June 9 to act.

Visited by Steinhardt.

United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt says Benes is "relatively well, considering his age and condition." The envoy called on the President yesterday at Sezimovo Usti, his country home, to present birthday greetings of the foreign diplomatic corps.

"We had an animated conversation for about an hour," Steinhardt said. "The President seemed in relatively good health and spirits."

Recent reports from London said Benes had suffered two severe strokes and that his recovery was uncertain. This was denied by the Government.

One-Ticket Election.

The Czechs will vote for a new Parliament tomorrow in a single ticket election. The Communist-dominated Government has handpicked a list of candidates who appear on the ticket.

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald promised Czech workers that the elections would be freer and more democratic than anywhere else in the world.

In a radio address, he said oppositionists would turn in blank ballots, but, he said, "we will show them that the nation rejects these Judases."

(In London, nine members of the Czechoslovak Embassy resigned today in protest against the manner in which their homeland's parliamentary election will be conducted tomorrow, an embassy spokesman said. It was understood that those resigning included the military and air attache, Gen. Jan Plass, and his deputy.)

Man's Body Found, Wrists Cut.

The body of Henry C. Doell, a laborer, who had cut his wrists with a razor blade and strangled himself with a belt, was found yesterday afternoon in his room at 3715 Olive street. Doell left a note to his estranged wife, Mrs. Pauline Doell, 3841 Delmar boulevard, stating "this is the only way out." He was 55 years old.

U.S. LIFTS FREEZE ON $60,000,000 IN SPANISH ASSETS

Licensing Requirement Also Ended—Not a Softening of Anti-Franco Policy.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Government has lifted a seven-year-old freeze against withdrawal of about $60,000,000 in Spanish-owned assets in this country.

It also has done away with requirements that licenses must be obtained to send money to Spain on current transactions. That left Portugal the only country bound by those requirements.

The action was announced yesterday by the Treasury, which handles controls over foreign funds. State Department officials said it does not mean any softening of United States policy toward Dictator Francisco Franco.

The action followed an agreement by Spain May 8 to return to American war allies all gold in Spain which could be determined to be Nazi loot. There was no estimate of the amount.

Spain also has agreed to close Nazi schools in that country, send Nazi agents back to Germany and to sell off German property in Spain and pay the proceeds over to the Allies.

Those proceeds and the gold will be distributed among Allied countries from which the Germans looted gold during the war. France is the chief beneficiary. The United States takes no part of this money.

FINLAND PAYS ON WAR DEBT

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Finland paid the United States another $163,172.24 installment yesterday on an $8,400,000 debt contracted for relief supplies furnished after the World War I armistice in 1918.

Thus Finland kept its record of being the only country that has never defaulted on debts of that period.

INQUIRY TURNING TO 'VOICE' SCRIPTS AIMED AT RUSSIA

'We're Going to Look Into This Whole Picture,' Says Chairman of House Group.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Aroused members of Congress turned a critical eye today on United States broadcasts to Russia, as Government and private broadcasting officials shouldered blame for controversial programs beamed to South America.

Angered by testimony that the State Department and National Broadcasting Co. failed to check on "Voice of America" scripts broadcast to foreign countries, Chairman Chenoweth (Rep.), Colorado, of a House expenditures subcommittee, declared:

"We're going to look into this whole picture. We know what happened in broadcasts to South America, and some of us are hopping mad about the ridicule heaped on the United States. We want to find out what the State Department is sending out to other countries, particularly Russia and her satellites."

Slander Charged.

Chenoweth's committee is conducting one of several investigations touched off by disclosure in the Senate Wednesday that "Voice of America" broadcasts to Latin America had included statements which many lawmakers furiously attacked as "slander" and "sabotage."

The White House, Senate and State Department all have launched inquiries into the programs.

Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen agreed yesterday that the State Department must take at least part of the blame. "In the future, we must have prior supervision over every one of these scripts," he told the committee.

N.B.C. Vice President Charles R. Denny added that "we are not ducking responsibility." But he insisted there was no evidence of deliberate sabotage.

Congressman Disagrees.

Chenoweth disagreed. There couldn't have been "a better job of sabotage," he said, and added: "The only possible conclusion is that there was some ulterior motive."

Chenoweth told reporters he will subpena Rene Borgia, Venezuela-born script writer, to appear before the committee after its hearings resume next Tuesday.

(The United Press reported House investigators said they might call author John Gunther, whose "Inside U.S.A." was described as one of the sources of the controversial "Voice of America" broadcasts. Gunther's best-seller and WPA state guidebooks were cited before the House executive expenditures subcommittee as the background material used in preparing the radio scripts.)

Borgia was fired by N.B.C. last March after the belated discovery that his "Know America" broadcasts to Latin America were going out unchecked.

Chenoweth said he might also summon Albert Gandero, who supervised the broadcasts. Gandero was "relieved" of his post by N.B.C. executives and later quit. He is now in Cuba.

MAYOR TO SEEK SPECIAL SESSION BY ALDERMEN ON EARNINGS TAX

Will Ask for Summer Meeting July 20 to Enact ½ of One Per Cent Levy Authorized by the Legislature.

The Board of Aldermen will be asked to reconvene on July 20 for a brief summer session to enact the ½ of 1 per cent earnings tax, Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann announced today.

The measure, designed to bring in $5,000,000 annually in municipal revenue to meet mounting operation costs and an increasing municipal deficit, probably will become effective, if enacted, by Sept. 1, the Mayor said.

The announcement followed the signing by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly yesterday of state legislation which enables the city to impose such a tax. An earlier earnings tax of ¼ of 1 per cent, enacted by the city in 1946, was declared invalid by the Supreme Court because the city lacked authorization by the Legislature.

Meeting of Aldermen.

Although the Board of Aldermen yesterday set June 16 as the date for beginning its summer recess and Sept. 17 for reconvening in the fall, the Mayor said he has asked the board to amend its resolution and set July 20 as the date for reconvening.

This would enable the board to handle the earnings tax measure immediately after the state legislation becomes effective on July 19. The state law limits the authorization to a two-year period after that date. By setting a reconvening date in advance, the board also would eliminate the necessity for the Mayor calling it into a special session to handle the tax legislation.

The Mayor said the July session of the Board could be brief because the charter permits the Board to meet day-to-day. If necessary, the bill could be enacted in three meetings, but more time than that will probably be needed to provide adequate opportunity for public hearings on the measure, the Mayor said.

Possibility of introducing the measure into the Board before July 19 had been discussed, the Mayor said, but to avoid legal questions it had been decided to withhold introducing it until the new state statute is actually in effect.

5 Tax Categories.

The state act sets up five categories on which the tax may be levied by ordinance. They are: (1) on all earnings of residents, (2) on all salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation earned by non-residents for work or services performed within the city, (3) on the net profits of associations, businesses and other activities conducted in the city by residents, (4) on the net profits of associations, businesses and other activities conducted by non-residents in the city, and (5) on the net profits earned by all corporations as the result of work done or services performed, and business and other activities conducted in the city.

Net profits of corporations and businesses subject to the tax are defined under the act as their net income, as determined under the state income tax laws.

The city also is given the power to require employers to withhold the earnings tax from the pay of their employes. If this is done, the employers can retain 3 per cent to pay the expenses of collecting the tax.

Constitutional Protest.

In approving the bill, Gov. Donnelly overruled a formal constitutional protest against the measure which had been filed by Representative Joseph Wynn Murphy (Dem.) of St. Louis. Murphy contended the original intent of the bill had been changed while the bill was considered in the Legislature in violation of the State Constitution.

As originally sponsored by the city, the bill provided for a 50 per cent reduction in state income taxes and gave all cities the right to levy a municipal income tax equal to the state cut. In addition, St. Louis and Kansas City have had authority, as an alternative, to enact an earnings tax. The General Assembly amended the bill, however, to enable St. Louis to levy the earnings tax and eliminated provisions affecting other cities and the proposed state income tax reduction.

The Governor ruled the intent was not changed because the St. Louis earnings tax provisions were in the measure from the start, and that elimination of the other features did not alter the purpose of the legislation within the meaning of the constitutional provision.

Opposition to Act.

There was considerable opposition to the act in the Legislature because it did not require personal and dependence exemptions, similar to those under the income tax laws.

There also were objections because it permits the city to levy on the earnings of non-resident individuals who are employed in St. Louis. St. Louis county legislators almost unanimously voted against the bill because it was estimated that about 40,000 county residents would have to pay the tax on incomes earned in the city.

This is the third bill sponsored by the city to improve its fiscal affairs which passed the Legislature and was approved by the Governor. The other bills provided for transfer to the state of the City Sanitarium and the Training School for Feebleminded Children, which is expected to save the city about $1,350,000 a year in maintenance costs.

BOY, 11, DROWNS IN FARM POND

Edward Mullen, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mullen of Leasburg, Mo., drowned yesterday in a pond on the farm of John Slaton near his home.

The body was recovered last night in water about four feet deep. A companion, Robert Warick, reported Edward had been sitting on a large rock in the middle of the pool when the Warick boy left him at 4 p.m. Leasburg is about 65 miles southwest of St. Louis.

DRIVES GIRL AROUND TWO DAYS TRYING TO GET HER TO SAY YES

Young Man Brings Her Here From Minneapolis—She Still Says No.

A tale of a two-day circuitous 685-mile automobile trip from Minneapolis to St. Louis was told police yesterday by 18-year-old Marion Noodleman and Lawrence Londer, 22, both of Minneapolis.

Londer repeatedly and unsuccessfully proposed marriage to the girl during the trip, which included stops at Mason City (Ia.) and Kansas City before the pair came here Thursday. He even took her to City Hall here, hoping that if she got that close to a marriage license she might change her mind. She didn't.

Miss Noodleman explained that she had met him only last Saturday. Their peregrinations began in Minneapolis last Tuesday when he called for her "to take her for a ride in the country." She walked into the Page boulevard police station for assistance yesterday after Londer apparently had carried out a promise to leave her stranded here if she said no again.

Londer wasn't able to bring himself to leave her, however, and police found him waiting in his automobile at Union boulevard and Enright avenue. A long distance telephone call to Miss Noodleman's father, a Minneapolis truck driver, brought the information that he didn't want to prosecute and telegraphed $25 to pay for her train fare home.

Police put her on a train for Minneapolis which left Union Station at 11:45 o'clock last night, and released Londer from the Page station holdover at the same minute.

BOY FORMALLY SENTENCED FOR KILLING AT BOONVILLE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 29 (AP)—Jerry Robert Owens, 16 years old, was sentenced to 25 years in the Missouri penitentiary today for killing a cellmate at the State Training School for Boys in Boonville last Aug. 31.

He was convicted of second-degree murder in the strangulation killing of Donald Threlkeld, 14, while both were confined in a dark cell block for escaping from the school.

Owens said at his trial he did not intend to kill the boy, only to scare him.

Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair said he had no alternative under the law except to send Owens to the penitentiary. Owen's home is Cantwell, Mo.

Also sentenced today were Charles Amos, 22, of Jefferson City, to 35 years in prison for second-degree murder and Sgt. Bernard Sheridan of Republic, Kan., for manslaughter. Amos pleaded guilty and Sheridan was convicted in the Christmas Eve killing of George Zahl, 65-year-old Jefferson City Bachelor.

Their loot was six bottles of beer and some small change.

DRIVER DIED BEFORE FATAL EXPRESS HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

A coroner's jury found yesterday that Wendell Parker, Negro driver of an automobile which collided with another of the Red Feather Express Highway May 21, causing the death of his wife and nephew, died of a ruptured artery just before the crash occurred.

Parker's wife, Helen, was killed in the accident, just west of Tamm avenue, and his nephew, James Parker, died last Sunday. All lived at 3016 Caroline street. Mrs. Kay F. Sherman, 815 Westwood drive, Clayton, driver of the other machine, suffered head injuries.

Police investigation disclosed the westbound Parker machine was moving at high speed, apparently out of control, and swerved across the center line into the path of Mrs. Sherman's eastbound automobile. The jury returned verdicts of accident in the deaths of Mrs. Parker and James Parker.

HEART ATTACK CAUSED DEATH OF MAN FOUND IN PARK LAKE

A heart attack, and not drowning, caused the death of Louis G. Truemper, whose body was found floating in Jefferson lake in Forest Park last Tuesday, a coroner's jury held yesterday.

Truemper, assistant warehouse manager for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., was seen wading into the lake and ducking his face in the water. Witnesses testified he became ill at work that morning and left to go to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment. In previous seizures, he had found that splashing his face with water helped, it was brought out.

An autopsy disclosed that the lungs contained no water and death had been caused by heart disease, Coroner Thomas F. Callanan reported. Truemper, who was 54 years old, lived at 7431 Somerset drive, Clayton.

BOY, 14, IS KILLED BY AUTO, TRUCK IN CASEYVILLE, ILL.

Bicyclist, 11, Loses Life on Highway in Pacific, Mo. — Two St. Louis Youths Hurt.

Edwin S. Ash, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ash of Rural Route 1 near Caseyville, Ill., was killed today when he was struck by both an automobile and a truck on Illinois State Highway 157 in Caseyville.

State highway patrolmen arrested both drivers, Ernest Weisset of Caseyville and Cletus Feig of Collinsville. The boy's body was taken to the Schroeppel undertaking establishment in Collinsville.

Ronald L. Ehler, 11 years old, living near Pacific, was killed when struck by an automobile as he rode his bicycle on United States Highway 66 in Pacific yesterday.

Albert L. Hunt, 7611 North Sunset drive, Pasadena Park, driver of the machine, said the boy, moving west on the north side of the road, swerved to the left into the path of the westbound automobile. The State Highway Patrol reported Hunt was traveling about 60 miles an hour.

Two Youths Hurt.

Two St. Louis youths were injured seriously at 4 a.m. today when an automobile in which they were riding left the pavement at a curve on Centerville avenue near West Monroe street, Belleville, struck a railroad crossing signal post, mowed down a 20-foot section of fence, crashed into the corner of a residence and stopped against a power pole.

Injured were William K. Baker, 20 years old, 4141 Federer place, driver of the machine, who suffered a skull fracture, and Norman H. Otto, 19, 6613 Morganford road, a skull injury. Both are in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville. Frank J. Pellizzari, 22, of Collinsville, riding with them, escaped with scratches.

Pellizzari told police he had met the St. Louisans a short time earlier in a cocktail lounge on Virginia avenue, St. Louis, and accompanied them to the East Side where they stopped at another place for drinks. They were on the way to another tavern when the accident occurred, he said.

Police said Baker apparently lost control of the automobile as it neared the foot of a hill on Centerville avenue, which is Illinois Route 158. The fence destroyed was in front of 329 Centerville. The house struck by the machine was No. 325.

Bus Driver's Skull Fractured.

Frank Meyers, 8421 Pennsylvania avenue, a Public Service Co. bus operator, suffered a skull fracture when knocked down by a company bus yesterday just after he had parked his own vehicle on a parking lot adjoining the company garage at 3621 Iron street.

Louis L. Luten, 115 East Loretta avenue, Lemay, who was moving his bus into position on the parking lot, said he didn't see Meyers until he was within three feet and was unable to stop in time. Meyers, 51 years old, was taken to St. John's Hospital.

Argie Richmond, 4208 West Pine boulevard, and Miss Verna Apple, 4178 Folsom avenue, were seriously injured when struck by an automobile as they tried to cross Tower Grove avenue in the 1500 block last night. Driver of the machine, Miss Cherie French Alcorn, 3959 Flora place, told police she was unable to swerve in time to avoid the accident.

Richmond suffered a head injury, broken left hip and lacerations; Miss Apple a head inqury, broken left leg and pelvis injury. Both were taken to City Hospital.

EXPERT RANKS CITY AMONG 10 LEADERS IN SPEECH HABITS

Language Record Maker Says Midwesterners Use Best American-English.

St. Louisans were assured by an expert today that their speech has more natural grace than that of any of the other users of native American-English. St. Louis was one of the 10 American cities selected as having the best "speech habits" in the United States.

The expert charmed by St. Louisans' speech was Max Sherover, director of the Linguaphone Institute of America, a company which manufactures phonograph records for teaching languages.

As a matter of fact, said Sherover, Midwesterners speak the best American-English in the country. The stronghold of the most pleasing speech in the United States, in his opinion, is Chicago, because "it is the center of the United States and has accepted the best speech habits of the North, South, East and West."

Other cities where natives' speech rings pleasingly in Sherover's ears include Boston, the best American-English on the Seaboard; Atlanta, typifying the best English of the South; Dallas, best in the Southwest; Los Angeles, best in the Far West "with a continental connotation due to Spanish influence," and Portland, Me., for its "cosmopolitan" speech due to New England clipped speech combined with "overtones of its large French population."

Also on the approved list were Minneapolis, whose residents "make the best use of British-Canadian influence together with American speech"; Baltimore, for its speech of "strong character," and Atlantic City, N.J., where Sherover found that residents had adopted the best speech habits of everyone who goes there on vacation.

Brooklyn was conspicuously missing from the list, but Sherover carefully avoided naming the places where the speech of the natives affects him like a fingernail on a blackboard.

ONE WOMAN IN 50: CAPTURES MOUSE WITH MILK BOTTLE

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—About 50 women jumped from their chairs in the jury room of the Criminal Courts building yesterday and screamed. Some climbed on top of tables, chairs and window sills.

Court Clerk James Bernardo came a-running to help quiet the prospective jurors.

Instead, he grabbed a window pole and started in pursuit of a mouse. It had leaped out of the knitting yarn of Mrs. Mable Zirbee, who was the only woman who helped Bernardo in capturing it. She cornered it under an empty milk bottle and Bernardo killed it with the window pole.

The women got down off the window sills, tables and chairs.

TIRE MARKS LEAD TO TRUCK USED IN BURGLARY; MAN HELD

Police investigating a $44 burglary at a restaurant at 1917 Park avenue early yesterday noticed that tire marks led from a window of the restaurant to a truck parked next door. Footprints on the hood of the machine indicated it had been used to reach a high window in the restaurant.

Officers arrested Woodrow Carter, 1915A Park avenue, owner of the truck, and reported that he admitted the burglary and turned over $24 in silver, part of the loot. They quoted him as saying he opened the window in the restaurant by standing on his truck, but found the opening too small. He then forced a rear door with a tire tool and took the money.

Simon Mahanna, the restaurant owner, discovered the theft when he arrived to open the place a short time later. A burglary warrant will be sought against Carter, who is 24 years old.

CITY GIVES CAB FIRMS MORE TIME ON LIABILITY LAW

Mayor Approves Extension With Reluctance —Warns He Will Oppose Further Delay.

A stern warning that he will sign no more bills extending the time limit in which taxicab operators must meet the provision of ordinances requiring increased liability insurance or bonds assuring the payment of damage judgments was issued yesterday by Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann.

The warning was issued after the Mayor signed "with reluctance" measures which extended until Sept. 26 the effective date of bills requiring additional protection for the public and for passengers of taxicabs and service cars.

The bills went into effect Wednesday, but the Board of Aldermen hastily extended the effective date after the Board of Public Service yesterday asked the Police Department to start making arrests of drivers for 16 companies, operating 498 cabs, which had failed to file additional insurance or bonds.

Aldermen See Mayor.

The Mayor said that several aldermen had consulted with him and that he had agreed to a 90-day extension, or until Aug. 26. The pending bills provided for a 60-day extension, but were amended just before passage to provide for 120 days.

Obviously nettled by this action, the Mayor conferred with members of the City Counselor's office for several hours on the advisability of vetoing the extension measures. He said after signing the bills that only the interests of public transportation and the jobs of the employes of the taxicab companies had induced him to approve the measures.

In a sharply worded message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor said: "I cannot countenance any further extensions and should like to inform you that I shall not sign any bills that may be submitted to me in the future for additional extensions of the time limit."

The Mayor apparently believed the time limit had been extended to Sept. 26 to permit the introduction and passage of another extension measure when the board reconvenes in the fall on Sept. 17.

Calls Bills "Step Backward."

The Mayor told the board that the bills "are a step backward, nullifying, as they do, the added protection" provided by bills enacted a month ago.

"Repeatedly, I have called upon you to strengthen the law respecting the operation of taxicabs and service cars on our public streets in the interest of adequate service, ample protection and reasonable cost to the riding public," the Mayor told the board. He signed the time extension bills, he said, "only because any other action might unjustly work a hardship on the employes of the cab companies and the traveling public by causing a general shutdown of many of the companies for an indefinite period of time."

After the Mayor signed the extension bills, police lifted the arrest orders against cab companies which had failed to comply. In the meantime, 10 drivers of Negro cabs had been arrested for operating without a Board of Public Service permit. The original permits were revoked automatically for failure to maintain proper amounts of insurance.

Cab Firms Affected.

Arrest orders had been issued against the Mound City Cab Co., operating 175 Yellow cabs, and the Baden-Jennings Co., operating eight cabs. Each Negro cab firm in the city had failed to comply. They were: Allen, 20 cabs; Blue Jay, 30; Central, 30; Famous, 19; Harris, 10; Madison, 20; Marcella, 19; Missouri, 10; Mitchell, 30; St. Louis American, 20; Wyatt, 30; Victory, 20; De Luxe, 40, and St. Louis Cab, 17.

The new ordinances require insurance of $5000 for one person injured in an accident and $10,000 for more than one person. This is double the amount of the earlier requirement. Bond which may be posted instead of insurance is also increased. The range was formerly from $1000 to $10,000, depending on the number of cabs. It is now $5000 to $20,000.

Companies which had met the new requirements and were not affected by yesterday's arrest order operate 491 cabs. They are: Ace, 125 cabs; Black and White, 250; Laclede, 75; St. Louis Auto Livery, 20; Sparky's, 15; Lemay, 3, and Ray's, 3.

Fashion Note: Whirling Headgear Is THE Thing for Younger Set

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

Wearing one "atom whirler," little RICHARD WACHTER inspects another with his mother, MRS. L. WACHTER, 4133A Potomac street, in a downtown department store.

The new look for children, if their parents can stand it, is going to be propellers, fashion experts said with a sigh today.

"Atomic whirlers," beanies with two propellers on them, have joined yo-yos as one of the essential possessions of children. Store buyers here said shipments of beanies, which cost from 39 to 59 cents, are sold out almost as soon as they are received.

The propellers, made of celluloid in various colors, are mounted on a piece of wood stuck into the top of a beanie. Pitch of the propellers is reversed, so that when a child dashes gaily down a sidewalk, they spin in opposite directions.

The man who is responsible for the craze got the idea when he was faced with the problem of disposing of a large stock of beanies nobody wanted. Benjamin Molin of New York put a couple of sticks with propellers on them through holes he punched in two beanies, tried out the fashion on his twin 7-year-old sons, and knew he had something.

Store buyers said even worse is yet to come. Somebody has put propellers on bow ties to make a fanciful bit of apparel which is expected to be available here in a few days.

ALTON MAN SHOOTS WIFE AND KILLS SELF

Son Says They Had Been Estranged and Reconciled Several Times.

William F. Cook, an unemployed machine operator, shot and killed himself last night, after shooting his wife three times at her home at 153 Goulding avenue, East Alton.

Cook died five hours after the shooting at Alton Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Elizabeth Polly Cook was in serious condition today at Barnes Hospital. First taken to the Alton hospital, she was found to have been shot in the right side of the head, the right shoulder and lower back.

East Alton police were called to the scene by neighbors who heard shots and saw Cook run to the back yard and shoot himself in the head with a revolver later found in his hand. Police found Mrs. Cook lying in the dining room.

Their son, Roscoe Cook, with whom Mrs. Cook lived, told police his parents had been estranged and reconciled several times, and was uncertain of his father's residence. He could give no reason for the shooting. Mrs. Cook was unable to make a statement. Police Chief Homer G. Jenkins of East Alton said four cartridges had been discharged from the weapon.

Brewers 'Grain-Saving' Goes On.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Agriculture Department has continued until June 30 the present brewers' grain conservation program. The program has been scheduled to be replaced June 1 by a new one designed to save slightly more grain. Postponement of the new program until June 30 was requested by the brewing industry.

HOLIDAY EXODUS TAXES BUS AND RAIL FACILITIES

Public Offices, Courts and Most Businesses to Close Monday—Safety Warning.

Railroad, bus and other transportation facilities were taxed today by a rush of St. Louisans leaving the city for the three-day Memorial holiday.

At Union Station railroad officials said the congestion began last night and continued this morning.

Memorial day officially will be tomorrow, but observance generally will continue through Monday, when many services will be held in honor of war dead.

Persons planning outings in the country tomorrow may have to dodge thundershowers, the weather man said. Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren predicted occasional thundershowers late tomorrow afternoon with temperature near 80.

Public offices and courts, and most business establishments and schools will be closed Monday, although some schools in St. Louis county will operate as usual. There will be no mail deliveries and only one mail collection. Special delivery service will be provided as usual and the receiving window at the main postoffice, Eighteenth and Market streets, will be open.

The Safety Council of Greater St. Louis called attention to the long highway automobile accident lists which have accompanied Memorial days in previous years, and urged motorists to drive with care.

"No matter how careful you are, the other guy can get you into trouble, unless you watch out for his rash acts and make allowances for them," the council said.

Chief service for residents of St. Louis and St. Louis county will be the dedication Monday of the Court of Honor, a memorial to World War II dead, in Memorial Plaza. Sixteen granite tablets bearing the names of 2573 St. Louis dead will be unveiled in ceremonies beginning at 3 p.m.

Preceding the ceremony will be a parade, which will follow a route from Twelfth boulevard and Washington avenue east to Sixth street, south to Olive street, west to Twelfth, south to Market and west to Fifteenth street. There will be a reviewing stand between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, who was captured in the fall of Corregidor, will be the principal speaker.

Among services sponsored by veterans' organizations tomorrow will be one at 10 a.m. at Memorial Park Cemetery, Lillian avenue and Lucas and Hunt road, in which seven American Legion posts will participate. Circuit Judge Edward M. Ruddy will be principal speaker. American Legion posts which will take part are Nos. 54, 206, 357, 451, 512, 518 and 537.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Council of St. Louis county and its auxiliary will hold a service at Memorial Park Cemetery at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

A service by Jefferson Barracks Post No. 5 of the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets) will be at noon at the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks. Flowers will be dropped over the cemetery by a low-flying bomber. Planes from the Naval Air Station at Lambert-St. Louis Field will fly over the memorial service, and the Scott Air Force Base band will play.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Living Wage for Civil Servants

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

No country can enjoy good government unless it has an efficient public service, and no civil service can be efficient unless its servants are paid a living wage.

Many foreign countries try to economize at the expense of their servants' salaries. It's invariably a very costly economy. An old European anecdote illustrates the point: A teacher of arithmetic asks his class to solve the following problem: "A customs inspector earns $39 a month. His monthly rent is $40. Where does he obtain that additional dollar?" All hands are up! Even the dullest youngster knows the answer to this one.

In contrast with these near-sighted countries, the United States has generally enjoyed an efficient and honest public service by paying its servants a living wage. However, of late many federal employes are no longer paid a living wage. While the cost of living since 1939 has risen some 70 per cent, the average federal salary has gone up only 30 per cent. As a result, many capable civil servants are resigning for better jobs elsewhere and the Government finds great difficulty in attracting young people, especially professional people. This has recently moved Senator Taft of Ohio to remark on the floor of the Senate that "we have a prior obligation to federal employes to see that their salaries are increased at least as much over prewar as their cost of living."

Two bills are now before Congress to rectify this injustice to our public servants by bringing federal salaries more in line with present-day prices. For the sake of the country and good government, I suggest that the proposed increases should be granted.

Who's Scaring Whom?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It seems to me that in the matter of Communism in the United States there is much hysterical propaganda.

I think I am as fair a target as anyone, yet never in my life have I been asked to join the Communist party.

In the past several years I have heard more talk about Communism coming out of Washington, D. C., than I have heard from any other source in the United States in all the rest of my life.

Who is trying to scare whom? And for what purpose?

HARRY S. SHARPE.

Israel's Cause, America's Cause

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The sympathies of most of the responsible people in this country—Christians and Jews alike—are with the Jews of Israel in their struggle to gain a homeland for themselves, the remnants of Hitler's Jewish victims and the fugitives from Communist-dominated Europe.

Certainly Mr. Truman was responsive to the will of the people when he gave immediate recognition to the new state. Many people believe we should go further: that we should lift the embargo and permit the shipment of arms to Israel. Perhaps a country that can finance the armies of Greece might find it a good investment in democracy to support the democratic struggles of the people of Israel.

Perhaps the quickest way to end the war in Israel and bring a just settlement would be for us to insure that none of our resources is used to further the aggressions of the Arabs. The Arab armies are British-trained and British-financed. They could not take the field, they would not stay in the field, without the support and approval of the British Government.

Paul Hoffman, administering the Marshall plan, could very quickly reduce British enthusiasm for the Arab cause by withholding any economic benefits while Britain, in turn, has sufficient economic strength to finance this most undemocratic war.

The war in Palestine is not a problem for the Jews alone. It is a test of democracy; it is a challenge to the good will of those who have faith in a way of life which leads to a hopeful future and not to the extinction of civilization.

Math Problem

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

If it is deemed impractical at this time to grant World War II veterans of some states a bonus of say $400 or $500, how much more impractical would it be to grant peacetime enlistees in the armed services a $1500 bonus upon completion of term of enlistment?

HARRY SCHULTE.

Some Aspirin for Him, Too

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I have just caught up with your editorial "Please Pass the Aspirin" as a reprint in the Dallas News. It is in line with my gloomy forebodings that in entering the United Nations Trusteeship Council, Russia was not up to any good.

A basic trouble with this world of saber-toothed tigers is group littleness. We have learned to gang up in groups, but that is not enough. Paradoxically, human growth must keep pace with world shrinkage. We must be big enough to consider the world as a whole. Zionists must not be willing to bring on Word War III by using Uncle Sam to pull the Zion chestnut out of the fire.

That Russia is cleverly planning to get us in bad with Islam, bring on war, and grab the Near East, is likely.

Light From Oklahoma

Gov. Donnelly's veto of a $17,500 educational appropriation for the State Training School on the grounds that it should have come from general revenue rather than from the earmarked school funds is a sign that the executive is going over appropriations with a fine-tooth comb. It gives encouragement to the hope that he will veto the $400,000 item for a new building for a state-supported Negro law school in St. Louis.

Everything which outstanding law educators have said in criticism of the makeshift Negro law school at Norman, Okla., would apply in some degree to a separate law school for Negroes in Missouri. As Prof. Max Radin of the University of California said in his testimony in the admission case of Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher, Chickasa Negro, the law is not a static collection of formulae, but a dynamic growing complex of relationships. There can be no adequate training for it apart from a study of the sources of the law and of the society which it is designed to serve.

Dean Erwin N. Griswold of Harvard made telling points when he said that a faculty of three part-time instructors could not begin to provide the instruction of the 11 full-time professors available to white students, and that a student body of one to five students offers "no sufficient divergence of view or diversity of experience." Dean Earl G. Harrison of the University of Pennsylvania took the position that such a school would be woefully lacking in opportunity for discussion, in which comments serve as sparks for the students.

Columbia University's Walter Gellhorn, a former St. Louisan, made this impressive assertion on the side of service to society:

> I regard it as most important that minority groups have contact with the dominant group in our society. I take it to be a fact that a very significant number of tomorrow's leaders in Oklahoma are being trained at the University of Oklahoma. It might very well be that if Negro students were given an opportunity to exhibit such superior qualities as they may possess to other students at the university, they might later be given greater opportunities for public service in this state—to the benefit of the state as well as themselves.

It is a credit to Oklahoma that this case is being debated on so high a plane—a credit that distinguished legal educators from great schools as far apart as Harvard and California have been called there to give their opinions. Against their comments, the remarks of Joseph A. McClain Jr., former Washington University law dean, that the separate school would offer substantially equal education stand out in contrast.

The question before Gov. Donnelly is threefold. It is the wasteful use of nearly a half-million in state funds for a school which would be utterly unnecessary if Negroes were admitted to the law school of the University of Missouri. It is equality of educational opportunity. It is fulfillment of the State Constitution which guarantees "equal rights" to all persons. The Bar Association of St. Louis believes that for the Governor to approve the appropriation would be to deny the guarantees of Section 2, Article I of the 1945 State Constitution.

Missouri will be spared a costly mistake if Gov. Donnelly vetoes this $400,000 Jim Crow item. Many citizens join with the Bar Association of St. Louis in hoping that he will decide in the interests of both justice and economy.

Marshal Smuts' Defeat

The defeat of Field Marshal Smuts in the South African elections and his resignation as Prime Minister comes with a surprise reminiscent of the repudiation of Winston Churchill in 1945. Certainly, it will turn out to be of much more than local significance.

Smuts fought with the Dutch colonists against the British in the Boer War. But having lost, he did not become an irreconcilable. He worked hard to have South Africa assume an ever more important role within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

His successor, however, is an extreme nationalist. He is even more bitter against London than was his former chief and Smuts' great opponent, the late Prime Minister Hertzog. Under Daniel Malan, South Africa may well make a bid to break its connections with Britain. Malan, who will soon take over the premiership, tried hard to keep the country from participating in the last war.

The success of his coalition of Nationalists and non-English-speaking Afrikaners also means a set-back for what little progress has been made by the natives in South Africa. The color line is likely to be drawn with more cruelty than ever. South Africa has turned toward reaction with a vengeance.

There is only slight reassurance in the narrow five-vote margin which Malan will have in the parliament. Lines are so closely drawn and feeling so strong that there is not much chance that Malan will fail to get full support of those on his side of the line.

It is more than a little tragic that a statesman with as broad a vision as Smuts' should be forced to bow to such opposition.

That Red Appeal to Vashon Students

We reprint today under the cartoon a letter from a Communist party organizer, handed out to students of Vashon High School, following a radio program by those students in which they denounced Communism.

The letter reveals the clever combination of truths and falsehoods characteristic of Communist propaganda. For example, it calls Communism the most democratic movement of the twentieth century, though Vashon students must know that this is a perversion of the word "democracy." The students must know that Communism survives by the methods of fear and terrorism.

Nevertheless, the Communist letter sets forth conditions which Vashon High School students know to exist. They are summarized as "poverty, exploitation, miserable hovels, insecurity, jimcrowism and the threat of war, discrimination because of race and color."

Here is an appeal to young Negroes that must make an impression because they see evidence all around them that bears it out. The Communist letter-writer might have added other items to his catalogue. He might have reminded Vashon students that, instead of letting Negro students enter the University of Missouri's law school, the Legislature has passed a $400,000 appropriation to build a separate school for Negroes.

There is much food for reflection in this Communist propaganda not only for Vashon students, but for both Negro-haters and those people with open minds. The lesson for them is that to deny the Negro equal educational and employment rights breeds just this kind of cunning appeal from the Communists. It may be that Vashon students know enough about Russia and its methods not to be taken in by the insinuation that only Communism can cure the injustices from which the Negroes suffer. But so long as the injustices exist, demagogues and false prophets can capitalize them.

Perhaps this Vashon High School incident may cause many of us, in our complacency and preoccupation with business and social affairs, to realize that the Communists—however small in numbers—are forever boring from within, even here in St. Louis.

Jerusalem, the Fought Over

The Old City has been captured once more although the battle for the newer sections of Jerusalem still rages. This time it has been taken by the Arabs from the Jews. And as was so often the case in the past, the victory is of little military significance. Jerusalem is well within the area granted to the Arabs by the United Nations plan for the partition of Palestine.

True, the city stands between the desert and the sea where the Jericho road branches off from the ancient highway that runs up and down Palestine, from Hebron to Bethel. But neither for defense nor for commerce is it nearly as important as the coastal cities. Yet it has become the most fought over city in the whole world.

In 30 centuries it has endured about as many sieges. It has been captured by David and Joash, by Antiochus and Chosroes the Persian, by Pompey, Crassus and Titus, by Omar, by Godfrey of Bouillon, by Saladin and by Allenby. Nebuchadnezzar and Hadrian destroyed it almost utterly, and more than a dozen other conquerors sought to leave not one of its stones upon another.

Yet old Jerusalem was rebuilt no less than 18 times. Where once the Nile gods of the Egyptians were worshipped, Solomon built the great temple to enshrine the Ark of the Covenant. The Romans built temples to Jupiter, Venus and Serapis; and they set the brazen boar, emblem of the Tenth Legion, over its gates. Christians raised churches surmounted by the cross. Under the crescent of Allah and Mohammed, Saracens and Arabs built mosques. And the Jews built synagogues which they still were defending only yesterday.

Religion, of course, gave Jerusalem its eminence in the hearts and minds of men. No less than six widespread faiths have looked to it as a holy place, if not their fountainhead. They have acclaimed it as the bride of kings and the mother of prophets. Pilgrims have been making their way to it for centuries and centuries. Constantine, Justinian, Charlemagne and many another monarch sent rich gifts to ornament the site of the Crucifixion and of the Sepulchre. To millions, it has been a font of forgiveness and grace. Even in pre-Israelitic times, it was known as Uru-salim, the place of peace. And the Arabs call it El Kuds, the sanctuary.

So much greater the wonder that its streets should so often have been ankle deep in blood, that so many should have had to echo Nehemiah's lamentation:

> Why should not my countenance be sad when this city, the place of my fathers' sepulchres, lieth waste, and the gates thereof are consumed with fire?

Leonard Wood and Leprosy

Americans remember Leonard Wood as a soldier, the commander of the Rough Riders and the Governor-General of the Philippines. But they are inclined to forget that he also was a doctor, a great disease fighter.

However, those who established the Leonard Wood Memorial did not forget. They recalled his long fight against yellow fever and his later determination to do what he could to stamp out Hansen's disease or, as it is still commonly called, leprosy. So they gave the memorial the form of a continuing crusade against this misunderstood plague.

Knowing that the age-old prejudice against leprosy is not justified, the Leonard Wood Memorial has made it part of its work to spread information which will change this attitude. It is pointing out that victims of leprosy should be treated not as pariahs, but merely as sick people. It is emphasizing the fact that early treatment can arrest the disease, but it is also looking for an absolute cure. The motto of the Memorial is: "To leave no scientific step untaken that holds any promise of finding the solution of this age-old curse of the human race."

This work is supported entirely by contributions from private sources. The organization, with headquarters at 1 Madison avenue, New York, makes an annual appeal for help. It does so on Memorial day. We hope that this year's response will be generous.

A Note About Antiquity

Once living was wonderful. Shoppers for meat in 1948 may not believe it, but here's the proof:

"When I lived in Omaha a couple of decades ago," writes Charles W. Morton of the Atlantic staff, "a household of three or four people, even with a fair amount of entertaining, could hardly use up a meat bill of $5 a week. You simply ordered whatever you wanted, all that you could possibly use, and a $5 bill would cram the refrigerator. No one ever bought hamburger in Omaha because round steak was 10 cents a pound. The cost of odds and ends like corned beef, calves' liver, tongue, sweetbreads and cheap cuts of beef had no meaning. A thick French lamb chop worked out at a nickel each or $1.20 for two dozen—just something to have on hand; a three-rib standing roast might run up to a couple of dollars, and no one ever bought a rolled roast of anything. A 'business man's lunch' at the Chinaman's offered for 50 cents the whole Chinese list or a thick T-bone steak. Most of us seemed to go for the chop suey just to get away from the monotony of thick T-bones."

It sounds like something out of the age of myth and fable, or a gross prevarication fashioned by Munchausen or the Burlington Liars' Club. But it is the sacred, solemn truth. And it might have been said of St. Louis and many another city as well as of Omaha in the long, long ago.

How Communists Woo Negroes

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Vashon pupils spoke ill of Communism in a broadcast, so a party organizer undertook to change their minds; he identifies all anti-Communist effort with the servility of Uncle Tom and brutality of Jim Crow; exploits segregation and discrimination to the hilt.

The following letter was circulated in mimeographed form among Vashon High School students. It is discussed in an editorial on this page.

Dear Students of Vashon High School:

Last night we listened to your program on KXOK. Frankly we are shocked by the lack of facts and fundamental knowledge. Instead of an objective study, the program exhibited the same kind of half-baked stuff used to smear the Negro people.

But we do not blame you students. It is unfortunate that your school lent itself to such a project—to arouse passions and prejudice which can only further weaken democracy. Each era has its Uncle Toms and this slander against the progressive forces is an attempt to bring rotten politics into our schools!

The logical conclusion of fighting Communism—the most democratic movement of the twentieth century—became crystal clear even on your short radio program. The logical conclusion is a betrayal of the struggle for democratic rights to all people, and particularly the Negro people.

"And That, Dear Students"

How ironic and painful it was to hear a Negro youth so lightly dismiss the question about civil rights . . . not the revolt of the South against Truman's civil rights, not civil rights, but only the fight against Communism is our concern! And that, dear students, is precisely the purpose of filling your minds with lies about Communism.

Enemies of Communism are your enemies. They want you to forget about the real issues facing the young people today. For example: "What jobs and schools are open to me?" "Why can't I eat at any restaurant like any other human being?" A date next week at the Fox Theater? Forget about it . . . Fight Communism. You want equal rights in the Army, in the office, in the factory? They say, forget about it—fight Communism!

Have you, as a high school student, ever thought about how the history of the Negro people, the history of the Civil War and Reconstruction, is mutilated in our text books—forget about . . . fight Communism! Hiss like a lyncher the words: Jail, imprison, drive out and outlaw the Communists! Repeat the stale lies about Moscow control.

A Text From Marx

But you are students, seekers of truth, of facts. Therefore, as self-respecting students you ought to know that there was a Communist movement in the United States long before there was one in Russia. You ought to know that the founder of the Communist movement said: "Labor in the white skin can never emancipate itself as long as labor in the black skin is branded." —Karl Marx.

You ought to know that early American Communists gave heroic support to the Civil War and that one of the outstanding Communists, who came here from Europe (yes, an "alien"), did so much to mobilize the people against slavery that he was appointed by President Lincoln as Commandant of the St. Louis Army Garrison. His name is Joseph Wedemeyer.

Just as the whip and lynching did not stop the march of the Negro people against slavery and oppression, so terror and jailing cannot stop Communism. So long as there is poverty, exploitation, miserable hovels, insecurity, jim-crowism and the threat of war, discrimination because of race and color—so long will there be Communists and a fighting Communist party.

Refuse to accept Bilbo's definition of Communism!

Demand democracy for all, including the Communists.

Sincerely yours,
Al Murphy, Section Organizer,
Communist Party of St. Louis,
1041 N. Grand avenue.

Enclosure: Attached hereto is a copy of our Constitution for your information.

Dark Wings Over Missouri

From the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch

Flying saucers, disks, gravy bowls and stewpans were reported seen last summer by residents of Virginia and nearly every other state in the Union. The whole nation seemed to go wacky at once, and ordinarily sane and responsible persons solemnly averred that they had just been startled by the sight of a perambulating soup tureen wheeling across the sky with the speed of a jet-propelled plane. Or that a celestial pie plate had been observed rug-cutting across the Big Dipper.

These amazing phenomena occurred last June and July, and then suddenly subsided. After the middle of July, nobody rushed in to report that he had just seen a "saucer" rise from the ground and take off through the air at high speed, or that an apparition, circular in shape with ribbed framework, and apparently with a motor and propeller, was doing a slow roll.

The last-named vision appeared to a St. Louis mechanic who had been trained during the war to spot all kinds of aircraft. There haven't been any more goings-on over St. Louis of precisely this character, in so far as we are advised, but the ingenious St. Louisans have come up with something else. This is a "flying what-is-it" which has been causing a sensation.

This varmint is described by a St. Louis policeman as looking "like a witch flying across the sky." He added that "it wasn't Halloween either." Another patrolman declared that when he saw the thing, it was silhoustted against the moon, and "as big as a small airplane." A citizen of St. Louis looked up, on hearing an airplane motor, and was "amazed to see this big dark thing apparently chasing the plane." The apparition "was clumsy and flapping its wings sort of lazily."

Such is the power of suggestion that we shall soon be informed, in all likelihood, that somebody in Kansas City has observed a huge object with outlines vaguely resembling a blimp cast in the contours of Roy Roberts, 265-pound managing editor of the Kansas City Star and maker of presidential candidates, doing an adagio Missouri Waltz across the stockyards. Then others will write, wire or phone in from all points of the compass that they, too, have seen the massive phenomenon. Next Indianapolis, Denver and Des Moines will chime in, and ere long we shall have the national flying saucer-Loch Ness monster-flying-what-is-it uproar all over again.

Why did those excited St. Louisans ever say anything about that dark, mysterious flapping of wings, anyway?

THE STILWELL PAPERS, by Gen. Joseph Stilwell, edited by Theodore H. White. (William Sloane Associates, New York.)

Anton Remenih in the Chicago Tribune.

Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell was recalled from the China-Burma-India theater in October, 1944. When he arrived in Washington he was told to "get out of town" and ordered to keep his mouth shut about China because the subject was "dynamite." He died two years later without telling his story.

Gen. Joseph Stilwell

With the publication of "The Stilwell Papers," a compilation of the general's wartime diary and letters to Mrs. Stilwell, the dynamite at long last is exploded. The shot may well be heard around the world.

Details of the incredible behind-the-scenes drama enacted during the war in China and Burma, made public for the first time in this book, fill blank pages of an entire chapter of history. Except for Gen. Stilwell's record, achieved in the face of incredible obstruction by Chinese politicians, the British, and some Americans, it is not glorious history.

The CBI commander, in pungent prose of a fighting soldier utterly devoid of hypocrisy and hating it, draws incisive pictures of President Roosevelt, Churchill, Chiang Kai-shek, and many lesser politicians as he saw them at secret conferences in Washington, Cairo and Tehran. The pictures he draws will not match those of fatuous hero worshippers.

His experiences with high level diplomacy at these conferences reaffirmed Gen. Stilwell's preference for "driving a garbage truck."

Roosevelt he calls Old Softie and, with tongue in cheek, the World's Greatest Strategist. Vinegar Joe, to his disgust, found Roosevelt completely "hypnotized" by Churchill at the conferences, and found him devoid of a backbone in dealings with Chiang.

* * *

But the earthiest language Gen. Stilwell reserves for Chiang, whom he refers to contemptuously as The Peanut. Relentlessly he pounds into dust the wartime myth of Chiang's greatness.

Denouncing the generalissimo as a power mad despot of a corrupt government, Gen. Stilwell charges him with blocking the war effort, of being responsible for major war disasters, of speaking contemptuously of American efforts and aid, and of being more interested in perpetuating his regime than in fighting the Japanese.

The book contains new detail of Stilwell's two Burma campaigns: one the ignominious retreat into India which prompted the general to say, "I claim we got a hell of a beating. . . . We ought to find out what caused it, go back and retake it (Burma)" and the second when he did just that despite shameful odds.

"The Stilwell Papers" is required reading for all thinking Americans.

Johnny Reb Gets Around

DIAMOND HEAD, by Houston Branch and Frank Waters. (Farrar, Straus and Co., New York.)

Moonlight and roses in the Old South, moonlight and blubber in the Yankee whaling port of New Bedford, moonlight and fragrance of the ylang ylang tree in the tropics, and more moonlight and fog in the Bering Sea. Ah yes, mates, the gallant Confederate raider Shenandoah and its Johnny Rebs did get around in history—and now in fiction. Strong men's hearts, canvas sails and taffeta petticoats flutter. Riffraff foremast hands use vile language and gaily consort with vile women. Gentlemen of the Old South restrain themselves quite properly—until they meet some luscious damsel of proper station. The characters are somewhat more than stock figures, the background is accurate and interesting and the action is fast. For a light tale of high adventure it's all right.

$ $ ADVENTURE IN ARABIAN OIL $ $

Oil Companies Wouldn't Let U.S. Buy Into Arabian Holdings, but Sold 40 Pct. to Other Firms

'Absolutely Coincidental' That 102 Million Dollar Deal Took Place in Month Truman Announced Greek-Turkish Aid, Texaco Chairman Told Senators.

By JOSEPH DRISCOLL
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

(LAST OF SEVEN ARTICLES.)

WHAT the Government of the United States failed to do in connection with Arabian oil, private concerns succeeded in accomplishing.

With the benediction of President Roosevelt, his Cabinet in 1943-44 conducted negotiations to buy a stock interest in the Arabian American Oil Co. to safeguard vital wa. supplies of petroleum products.

The negotiations encountered stiff resistance from the Standard Oil Co. of California and the Texas Co. which were equal owners of Arabian American. James F. Byrnes, then head of the Office of War Mobilization, reported to the President that the companies tried to drive a "hard bargain" and the Government, unable to purchase the stock at a "fair price," had to abandon negotiations.

But in March 1947, the same hard-dealing California and Texas companies sold a 40 per cent interest in their Aramco for $102,000,000. The purchasers were Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and Socony Vacuum Oil Co. (of New York) which acquired interests of 30 and 10 per cent, respectively, in Aramco.

Coincidence in Timing.

By a "coincidence," this deal went through the same month that President Truman declared a policy of assistance to Turkey and Greece, which meant greater protection and trade for American enterprises in the Near East and Middle East.

W. S. S. Rodgers, chairman of the Texas Co., who had won every round in his dealings with the United States Government, would not admit he had been out-smarted by the New Jersey and New York companies. When he testified before the Senate War Investigating Committee, the following colloquy took place between Rodgers and Senator Owen Brewster (Rep.), Maine, the committee chairman:

The Chairman. Was it entirely coincidental that the arrangement which you were discussing, under which you sold a 40 percent interest here for $102 million, in what is certainly a very good business venture at this time, went through the same month that President Truman declared the policy for Greece and Turkey, as being spheres of interest in which we would take a most active part?

Mr. Rodgers. Absolutely coincidental. And we were amazed the following day, or two days afterward, when we heard about it. If I had known about it, I think we would have probably held up, as far as we were concerned.

The Chairman. That is the most interesting bit of testimony you have given here. Do you suspect that your Standard of New Jersey friends were equally interested?

Mr. Rodgers. I certainly do.

The Chairman. Well, that is very interesting.

Mr. Rodgers. I have heard that they were amazed when they read about it.

Division of Reserves.

Oil men say the Middle East oil reserve is unquestionably the world's greatest. The American participation in that reserve is as follows:

| COUNTRY | American participation. | English participation. |
|---|---|---|
| Iran | None | 100 |
| Iraq | 23¾ | *52½ |
| Qatar | 23¾ | *52½ |
| Kuwait | 50 | 50 |
| Saudi Arabia | 100 | None |

*76¼ per cent if French share included.

(Qatar and Kuwait are on the Arabian peninsula but not part of Saudi Arabia. Qatar, a promontory jutting out into the Persian gulf, lies to the east of Saudi Arabia; Kuwait to the north.)

Operating freedom of American companies in the Middle East oil regions has been restricted by the semi-mysterious "red-line agreement." Roughly, the red-line area, as it is called, comprises the territory formerly occupied by the old Turkish empire. The Senate investigating committee reported that members of a group holding concessions in this area—including Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., Shell, a French group, and an American group consisting of Standard Oil of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum, each of which owns 23¾ per cent of the Iraq Petroleum Co., the remaining 5 per cent being owned by a British citizen named C. S. Gulbenkian—"have agreed that no one of them would take any other concessions within the so-called red-line area unless it were shared by the entire group."

Agreement Before Senate.

This would appear to be a cartellization, a fixing of spheres of influence in the petroleum world. Something of the same freezing of the Middle East oil situation might be accomplished by the Anglo-American oil agreement now pending before the Senate.

In 1944, when Secretary Ickes, on behalf of the Government, was trying to buy into the Arabian-American Oil Co., he was discouraged not only by the resistance of the oil companies but also by a letter from Cordell Hull, then Secretary of State. In that letter Hull said the State Department was negotiating with the British to achieve Anglo-America co-operation "in developing oil in the Middle East area" and that the Ickes efforts to buy Aramco (approved by President Roosevelt) "might adversely affect the course we may decide upon as a result of the conversations."

Hull, who has been ill for some time, was not called as a witness before the Senate investigating committee to explain why he threw cold water on a project about which President Roosevelt had been enthusiastic in the beginning.

White House Conference.

"At a meeting held in the White House in June 1943, presided over by Justice Byrnes and attended also by Secretary Ickes, Secretary Stimson, Secretary Knox, Dr. Herbert Feis of the State Department, and Gen. Boykin C. Wright of the War Department, the "gravest concern was expressed over the rapidly dwindling domestic reserves of petroleum and recognition was given to the urgent necessity of the acquisition of foreign petroleum reserves by this Government at the earliest practicable time."

All concurred in the formation of the Petroleum Reserves Corporation, the first objective of which would be to acquire 100 per cent stock ownership of the Arabian-American Oil Co.

A petroleum mission dispatched to the Middle East at that time reported back that the center of gravity in oil production was shifting from the Gulf of Mexico-Caribbean area to the Middle East. Saudi Arabia and Iran were rated then as the most valuable fields, Iraq was listed in third place, and Kuwait and Qatar, with relatively small areas, were said to have more limited possibilities. Mention was made that some drilling had been done in Syria and none in Palestine.

The Kuwait Concession.

In the last year or two, Kuwait has advanced toward the front, with little publicity, and some oil men think it may soon rival Saudi Arabia for top production. The Kuwait concession is owned half my the Gulf Oil Co. and half by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. When the United States Government was negotiating to buy the Arabian-American Oil Co. it also sought the Gulf's interest in Kuwait, with similar lack of success.

Kuwait is a small sheikdom just north of Ibn Saud's kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Before he came to power, Ibn Saud spent part of his years of exile in Kuwait, and he and the sheik of Kuwait are close friends.

In Kuwait as in Saudi Arabia, the American oil men have discouraged the building of palaces and have urged the potentates and their relatives to use their oil royalties to build irrigation ditches and roads and other permanent and productive improvements so that when the oil wells and the oil royalties are exhausted the natives will be able to live off fertile lands instead of reverting to their former nomadic existence among the sands of the desert.

And the oil men frankly admit the Middle East oil reserves will be drained as rapidly as possible. When a corporation has considerable capital invested and is operating amid unstable conditions, politically and militarily, the policy is to cash in on the investment quickly, with little regard for conservation such as might be practiced in Texas or California.

"Dubious Value" to Defense.

The shadow of the Russian bear clouds the future of the oil companies in the Middle East. The distance from Bahrein, southernmost of the producing fields, to Kirkuk, northernmost of the Middle East fields, is 850 miles, while the distance from Kirkuk, in Iraq, to Baku, the center of the Russian oil industry, is less than 450 miles.

"From the standpoint of national defense the Arabian reserves are of very dubious value," says the Senate War Investigating Committee. "Most military opinion agrees on the probability of the destruction or capture of the Arabian oil fields by the enemy in the event of any crisis.

"An excellent railroad and truck line were built by American enterprise and generosity from the Soviet border to the head of the Persian Gulf during the recent war and are readily available for an invasion in force.

"No comparable facilities are available from the Mediterranean."

For the time being, however, all is well with Abdul Aziz ibn Abdulrahman ibn Feisal ibn Saud, absolute monarch and sole proprietor of Saudi Arabia. This most royal of all desert potentates has just had his petroleum royalty increased from 21 to 31 cents a barrel, which gives him a monthly income in excess of $3,500,000, more than enough to take care of his royal household.

Starting from scratch, Ibn Saud increased his acreage in World War I and his treasury in World War II. What will happen to Ibn Saud and Saudi Arabia in the event of another major war is anybody's guess, but the most powerful Arabian potentate since Mohammed's era apparently has succeeded in linking the destiny of his country inextricably with that of the United States—a feat for which he can praise Allah and the oil companies.

The South's Case, and Its Fallacy

ON every political front, in Congress and out, the issue finally gets down to how power is to be exercised under the American form of government. We are facing the fact that, with responsibility divided between the states and the Federal Government, there are gaping holes in which no authority can function.

The absence of any government—anarchy—may be in theory a highly desirable condition.

What is more, change will come in the yeasty time in which we are living. It will come through the processes of democracy, or it will come in ways that can only be harmful and destructive to what we cherish most.

Hodding Carter

These thoughts are stirred by an editorial in the Mobile (Ala.) Press. The editorial agrees that there is a threat to freedom in recent proposals to curb information and thought. True, says the editorial, this is the "shadow of the police state." But it goes on to say that President Truman's civil rights program is likewise the shadow of a coercive state. The language used is strong:

FEPC: Police State.

"One particularly alarming measure endorsed by the President is the FEPC bill. That shadow of the police state grows even darker when one studies carefully this measure, which would create a dictatorial agency that could destroy the constitutional rights of citizens. This bureaucratic agency could tell an employer whom he could hire or not hire. It could dictate to unions as to membership, forcing them to admit persons they did not want.

"The FEPC measure would set up an army of spies traveling throughout the United States. Operatives of this Gestapo-like agency would have the power to act as complainant, prosecutor, judge and jury. The FEPC is a step toward the destruction of free enterprise."

Political demagogy and expediency to one side, here is the root of the Southern revolt against the Truman proposals. It is in the profound fear of coercion — of having an alien way of life imposed by force which would shatter a pattern cherished with blood and tears.

Real Fears.

This feeling is deep and real and it cannot be brushed aside as mere rhetoric. If any proof were needed, it is in the reaction of Southern liberals such as Hodding Carter of Greenville, Miss., who have considered themselves New Dealers. They cannot accept the imposition of the civil rights program by the Federal Government.

Visiting the South even briefly, you realize that Southerners are acutely aware of what the rest of the country may be thinking. They want to believe that their way of life is good, is workable and is capable of change. What is more, they want the visitor to believe it. They tell him of changes—of how Negro members of Northern football teams came to the South and played with their teams against the all-white teams of the South.

States' Rights?

To the Northerner, who brings his own prejudices with him, these changes are likely to seem very small gains indeed. He may argue that, if progress in granting equal opportunity is to be so slow, then the rest of the country will begin to believe the President's program may be necessary.

Here, in my opinion, is the weakness of the South's position. Granted that their problem is of a kind and a magnitude which the Northerner cannot comprehend. Granted that their fear of coercion and the police state comes out of a belief in freedom and in the rights of the individual that is perhaps deeper than in any other part of the country. Yet the fact remains that the South has not used the powers of the states to channel the process of change.

License for Reaction.

Consider what might have been the reaction to the President's proposals. Instead of political conventions devoted to ways and means of resisting Mr. Truman personally, the South might have held a convention to study how opportunity might be equalized within the framework of states' rights and the pattern of Southern conduct. Such a meeting would have made a deep impression on the country.

Two facts tend to becloud the passionate belief of the honest Southerner in freedom and in the rights of the separate states and the individual man. One is that some Southern interests seem determined to keep a lower wage differential based mainly on the Negro for economic gain. The other and more damaging fact is that so many Southern representatives in Congress seem always ready to vote for the measures that repress and coerce those whom they do not like. You cannot claim rights and freedoms for yourself that you constantly seek to deny to others.

The $2,500,000 plant is equipped with a television receiver, an FM radio with loudspeaker in each room, jukeboxes in the gymnasium and a music room with $5000 worth of instruments, including six phonographs.

The new school soon will be ready for the youngsters.

Pirates Off the Harbor!

LOS ANGELES—Excited callers told the Navy that Chinese pirates, or something, were off Los Angeles harbor. An armed merchantman was approaching, they said, "She's got a machine gun mounted on her stern!" one man reported.

The Navy and the Coast Guard quickly prepared for anything as the Canadian freighter, Lakeside, arrived with a cargo of war scrap material from the Orient to refuel en route to Baltimore, Md.

Explanation: Grinning crewmen said that, to relieve monotony at sea, they had mounted an old rusty Japanese machinegun and played "bang-bang."

HEARING ON READON PAINT STOCK SALE TO RESUME

A hearing on sale of Reardon Co. stock which was owned by the late J. Vincent Reardon will be resumed next Wednesday before St. Louis County Probate Judge Walter F. Stahlhuth. He heard arguments yesterday from attorneys representing interested parties.

Alfred H. Kerth, attorney for Reardon's widow: contended the Calverton Co. of Baltimore, Mo., which has bid $941,062 for 125,475 shares of stock in the Reardon paint firm, does not intend to go through with the purchase. Jacob Chasnoff, Calverton attorney, said that as far as he knew his client intended to complete the transaction, but he would inquire of them to make sure.

David Moran, executor of the Reardon estate, urged that the bid of another group, which exceeds the Calverton bid by $1000, be accepted. Reardon, president of the paint firm, died Feb. 8, 1947, after he had been shot at the wheel of an automobile in which he was returning his 14-year-old daughter and a boy companion from a tourist camp. The boy was killed in the ensuing automobile crash, and the daughter, Mary Catherine, subsequently was acquitted on a charge of delinquency by reason of murder.

WOMAN KILLED IN AUTO-TRUCK CRASH; NIECE AND GIRL HURT

A St. Louis woman and her 3-year-old daughter were injured in a truck-automobile collision on United States Highway 61 near Fredericktown, Mo., 75 miles south of St. Louis, yesterday. Mrs. Sally Evans, 61 years old, Hayti, Mo., was killed.

Injured were Mrs. Evans's niece, Mrs. Lloyd F. Hubbard, 1314 South Third street, who suffered chest injuries, and her daughter, Gayle, skull and face injuries. They were taken to St. Anthony's Hospital here. Hubbard and several other members of the family, on a fishing trip, suffered scratches.

TELEPHONE RATE HEARING HALTED UNTIL JUNE 14

Bell Co. Still Cross-Examining Opponents of Increase—Pensions Under Fire.

By RICHARD G. BAUMHOFF
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 29—Cross-examination of witnesses opposing the effort of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to increase its Missouri telephone rates by $3,250,000 a year will be continued by company counsel when the State Public Service Commission hearing is resumed here June 14.

The company's intensive effort to upset testimony against it was hardly more than half finished when the hearing recessed yesterday. Three witnesses remain to be cross-examined and there is the possibility that either the company or objectors may desire to offer more rebuttal testimony. The commission hopes the hearing can be completed in the week of June 14.

Perhaps six or more weeks will be required thereafter for submission of briefs by the various parties before the commission can take the case under advisement.

750,000-Word Transcript.

In six sessions covering 23 days so far, the written transcript of testimony has piled up nearly three-quarters of a million words, plus another quarter-million words in depositions. There are nearly 100 exhibits on file. The case has been hard fought, with the commission's technical staff and the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City opposing the company all the way.

Homer L. Thorp, chief accountant for the commission, who will be cross-examined at length in the session next month, was questioned on two phases yesterday by John Mohler, company attorney. One of these was his recommendation for adjustment in expense allowed for wages and for employment and training of telephone operators, which he estimated would increase net operating income by $262,842 a year. The other was his proposal to knock out two items of the annual cost of employe pensions aggregating $633,100 a year.

Saving From Dial Service.

Mohler challenged Thorp's idea that the saving in operating expense would result from cutting out 884 operators as 19 exchanges are converted from manual to dial service in 1948-50.

"For the life of me," said Thorp, "I can't see why you are going to dispense with the services of 884 trained operators, then spend $464,000 a year to train more of them—so I wonder if I wasn't too conservative in my estimates."

Mohler replied that the 884 operators to be made unnecessary were scattered in various towns, "and we can't keep them in a stockade."

Robert L. Bence, a company traffic engineer, called in rebuttal as to the operators' expense, gave a series of statistical answers which he said were intended to show that Thorp's estimates were incorrect. Bence, who had made an admitted guess at a previous session that 2 per cent of Missouri long-distance calls were canceled because circuits were not available, testified yesterday that a subsequent study indicated the correct proportion was only .4 of 1 per cent.

PENTAGON CLERK FAKES WAR RECORD, FLOCK OF CITATIONS

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—John Andrew Keller Jr., 21 years old, who went to work in 1944 as a clerk in the Pentagon building at Washington, left his job with a self-made rating of second lieutenant and a flock of bogus war citations.

"I did it all with an Army mimeograph machine and typewriter," Keller said yesterday after a criminal information was filed in federal court charging him with making false entries in Government records. "I gave myself an honorable discharge, too," he said.

The Peotone (Ill.) salesman is to be arraigned in federal court next week. Conviction of the charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $5000 fine.

Robert C. Eardley, Assistant United States Attorney, said Keller who never was in military service, represented himself as a veteran of several European battles, twice wounded, and winner of the Belgian Fourragere and the Purple Heart with Cluster.

Eardley said Keller's fake records were disclosed when he attempted to be promoted to first lieutenant in 1946.

He will demonstrate his own athletic prowess later in the day by throwing out the first ball at the Army-Navy baseball game. # AIR FORCE, NAVY GET AUTHORITY TO BUY PLANES

Two Agencies to Spend $1,998,800,000 for New Craft in U.S. Expansion Program.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The Air Force and the Navy got authority from Secretary of Defense Forrestal yesterday to start buying $1,998,800,000 worth of new planes.

Forrestal authorized this beginning of United States air expansion under provisions of the $3,198,100,000 measure approved by Congress recently to build a 70-group air force. President Truman signed the bill with reservations, saying Congress had provided more money than he considered necessary and warning that he might not approve full outlay of the sum.

Yesterday's authoriaztion gives $1,345,165,000 to the Air Force and $653,635,000 to the Navy. Details of the buying program were not immediately announced.

In general, the aim of air leaders is to acquire 2727 new Air Force and 1525 new Navy planes.

The Air Force wants 1575 jet fighters, 243 bombers, 909 transports and other type planes. The Navy says it needs 807 fighters, 515 attack planes (presumably including dive bomber types), 103 patrol planes (including long-range types used to hunt down submarines), 20 transports and 80 helicopters.

MAYOR SAYS SLUM PROJECT WILL AID RESIDENTS OF AREA

Apprehension on the part of residents of the proposed central slum clearance area that they will be evicted without a place to move to was allayed today by Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann, who laid that fear to a misunderstanding of the report made by the Anti-Slum Commission.

The Mayor pointed out that the report stated specifically that a wholesale demolition program would not be undertaken without regard to the needs of the occupants of the area.

"Certainly, we do not wish to engage in anything of a self-defeating nature," the Mayor said. "Our purpose is to improve the lot of the present dwellers as well as to beautify this No. 1 eyesore. We shall improve the living conditions of the present occupants only by providing better housing for them within the area or elsewhere."

The like situation exists as to churches, the Mayor added. "If the churches are not already there, we should seek them. A residential district without churches would be unthinkable." He said that no decision had been made as to what buildings—residential, commercial, industrial or religious—would be preserved or razed.

GIRL, 14, GETS LIFE FOR MURDER OF HER PLAYMATE, 5

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., May 29 (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Joyce Christine Nichols was sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment for the play cave murder of a 5-year-old playmate. She was the youngest person ever to receive a life sentence in this district.

Superior Judge Norman F. Main passed sentence after a hearing to determine the degree of Joyce's guilt. The girl had pleaded guilty of the killing last Oct. 17 of Myretta Jones.

Attorney Phillip N. Wagy, counsel for the Nichols girl, asked for conviction on a manslaughter count, contending "Joyce was panic-stricken" when she beat Myretta's head with a rock. The Nichols girl admitted to officers that she lured the little girl to the cave and beat her when she resisted immoral advances.

She was president of the Methodist Bishops' Wives Association, and was interested in activities of St. John's Church, where her husband was pastor for 20 years until 1938. She lived at 20 North Kingshighway.

Besides Bishop Holt, she is survived by a son, Ivan Lee Holt Jr., and a grandson, Ivan Lee Holt III.

PULLMAN LUXURY RATES UP

WASHINGTON, May 29 (UP)—The Pullman Co. was authorized yesterday to begin charging higher rates for "luxury accommodations" beginning June 1. The Interstate Commerce Commission voted not to suspend new rate schedules filed by the company earlier this month.

The increases, ranging up to 20 per cent, apply to seats in parlor and sleeping cars, roomettes, bedrooms and bedroom suites. It is estimated the company will receive additional revenues of $3,700,000. The company said the increases were necessary to help offset wage raises granted Pullman conductors last November.

HOT WEATHER CITED IN RISE IN SMOKE PALLS IN LAST YEAR

October Humidity, Stillness Factors in Doubling of Moderate Haze Figure.

Last October's atmospheric conditions were blamed by Smoke Commissioner James H. Carter today for the doubling of the amount of moderate smoke reported during the last fiscal year.

The amount of moderate smoke for the year ending in April was calculated at 38 hours and 40 minutes, as compared with 14 hours and 10 minutes in the previous fiscal year, Carter said. Almost half of the moderate smoke occurred last October, Carter said, which was the warmest October on record in the history of the Weather Bureau here and when scarcely any householder needed to burn any coal.

The explanation, he said, were the high humidity and lack of winds which caused what little smoke was being emitted to stay in the vicinity and close to the ground.

He pointed out that heavy smoke for the entire year, a total of one hour and 10 minutes, was about the same as for the previous year, when it totaled one hour and five minutes.

He concluded that when the amount of smoke had been reduced as much as it was under the St. Louis ordinance, the result was as great as human control can accomplish. "After that," he said," variations are due to atmospheric conditions about which humans up to now can do nothing."

ESTATE OF $400,000 LEFT BY FORMER JUDGE W. A. TAYLOR

Former Circuit Judge Wilson A. Taylor, who died April 7, left an estate valued at approximately $400,000, it was disclosed yesterday with the filing of an inventory in probate court.

The inventory placed a nominal value of $100,427 on the estate, but stocks were carried far below actual worth. Holdings includ 6210 shares of International Shoe Co. common stock which were listed at $1 per share, but which have a current market value of $41.50. The Taylor residence at 6214 Forsythe avenue was valued at $30,000.

A will made in 1934 left the entire estate to the widow, Mrs. Emily Hammer Taylor, for life, but she has chosen to take only her dower interest of one fourth and let three fourths go to three sons for whom the father had provided before his death.

The decision was based on provisions of the Revenue Act of 1948, which exempts a widow's share in an estate, up to one half, from the federal estate tax. The sons' three-quarter share will bear the federal tax burden, which will be about $34,000, as compared to the $62,000 tax the Government would have levied had the entire estate been taxable. The sons are Elbert L. and Wilson A. Taylor Jr. of St. Louis and John L. Taylor of Ardsley, N. Y.

FUNERAL ON TUESDAY FOR PARK G. HAMMAR

Retired Paint Manufacturer and Author of 'Growing Old and Staying Young.'

Funeral services for Park G. Hammar, an author of books on life prolongation and old age prevention, and a retired St. Louis paint manufacturer, will be at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Wagoner undertaking establishment, 4161 Lindell boulevard. Burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mr. Hammar, 84 years old, died Thursday at his room in the Stevens Hotel in Chicago. He was en route to Wequentonsing, Mich., a summer resort, at the time. Death was caused by heart disease.

A bachelor, he inherited a large interest in a profitable paint manufacturing concern. With his brother, the late Frank V. Hammar, he operated the old Hammar Brothers White Lead Co. until it was absorbed by the Eagle-Picher Lead Co. in 1919.

Following his retirement he took up hobbies, chief among which was the study, on a non-professional basis, of retarding the effects of age. Through them he became widely known. In 1929 he published a book, "Growing Old and Staying Young," in which he contended old age might be avoided almost indefinitely by renewing the body's cell structure through diet and exercise.

He planned a six-month experiment, using himself and volunteers as subjects, at a seashore health resort to test the theory. A diet of fresh fruit, changing gradually to cocoanut, was planned, together with a physical routine in which all eating, swimming and sleeping would be done face downward to keep the internal organs in what he felt was the normal position. He failed to get recruits and the plan was abandoned.

A second book, "Greater Cheer and Efficiency for Well People," was published in 1932. In it Mr. Hammar outlined a program of rural vacations, sun baths, violet ray treatments, exercise and frequent naps of diminishing length.

Mr. Hammar lived for a time at the Park Plaza Hotel, but in 1933 he bought the Ralph Bixby estate, "Stone Haven," on Upper Ladue road and developed it into a garden spot and showplace. In 1935 he built another showplace and garden spot, "Glimpse O' Glory," on the Mississippi river bluffs 23 miles south of St. Louis. It was said that Mr. Hammar never spent a night at the elaborate residence, however, preferring to be driven to "Stone Haven" to sleep.

For a time the old farmhouse at "Glimpse O' Glory" was used as a lodge by Girl Scouts. The estate was sold in July 1945, a few months after "Stone Haven" was sold. Mr. Hammar had lived in Santa Monica, Calif., for the past four years.

A cousin, Mrs. Lynton T. Block, 5290 Waterman avenue, is his only surviving relative in St. Louis. She said Mr. Hammar last visited St. Louis about a year ago.

MRS. HART A. KLYMAN DIES; FUNERAL SERVICES TOMORROW

Mrs. Klyman is survived by a son, Julius H. Klyman, editor of the Post-Dispatch Sunday PICTURES, with whom she lived at 626 Forest court, Clayton.

Cards Defeated by Pirates; Munger and Papai Victims of 3-Run Innings

Schoendienst's Homer, Musial's Triple Provide Only Runs Off Chesnes

By Bob Broeg
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

PITTSBURGH, May 29—George Munger's string of 11 consecutive victories over Pittsburgh ended this afternoon when the Pirates, taking advantage of shaky St. Louis fielding, beat the Cardinals and the big redheaded righthander, 7 to 3, in the second of a four-game series. The defeat was the Redbirds' third in the last four decisions.

Munger, suffering his third setback of the season against two triumps, had not lost to Pittsburgh since August, 1943. Last year he had a 4-0 record against the Pirates, who touched him today for six hits, four walks and four runs in five innings. Al Papai was victim of a three-run Pirate seventh inning.

Bob Chesnes, rookie Pittsburgh righthander, recorded his second successive 1948 victory by pitching a five-hit game during which he also passed five men.

Three Pirates — Johnny Hopp, Ralph Kiner and Danny Murtaugh—collected two hits apiece, and Kiner drove in three runs. Stan Musial also had two safeties, one a triple that drove in the Redbird's final run in the eighth inning. The Cards' first two tallies resulted from Red Schoendienst's first home run of the season, with Del Rice on base in the sixth.

Rain fell until just before game time, and the attendance was 15,336.

Henline, Stewart and Boggess were the umpires.

The game, play-by-play:

FIRST INNING — CARDINALS —Schoendienst grounded out to Murtaugh. Dusak, attempting to bunt, fouled to Kluttz. Musial lined to Rojek.

PIRATES — Marion threw out Rojek. Musial misjudged Gustine's fly and then trapped it for a single. On the hit and run, Hopp doubled off Lang's glove, Gustine stopping at third. Kiner, trying to check his swing, looped a single to short center, scoring Gustine and Hopp, and when Dusak fumbled the ball for an error Kiner reached second. Walker was called out on strikes. Stevens was intentionally passed. Murtaugh singled past Lang, scoring Kiner, Stevens stopping at second. Marion threw out Kluttz. THREE RUNS.

SECOND — CARDINALS—Slaughter singled to center. Jones fouled to Stevens. Lang was called out on strikes and Slaughter was doubled trying to steal second, Kluttz to Murtaugh.

PIRATES—Chesnes struck out. Rojek grounded out to Lang. Gustine flied to Musial.

THIRD—CARDINALS— Marion lined to Hopp. Rice walked. Munger struck out. Schoendienst forced Rice, Murtaugh to Rojek.

PIRATES—Hopp bunted safely toward third. Kiner walked. Walker doubled past first, scoring Hopp, Kiner stopping at third. Stevens again was intentionally passed, filling the bases. ## THE CAT, OLD FRITZ PITCH A 1-1 TIE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29—Although Harry Brecheen, the Cardinals' classy lefthander, has yielded only 30 hits and six runs in 48 innings, The Cat is having trouble gaining his fifth victory of the campaign. A week ago at Boston, pitching in a cold, steady rain, Brecheen suffered his first defeat. Last night at Forbes Field he was held to a 1-1 tie in a game with the Pittsburgh Pirates called after six innings because of rain.

Both Brecheen and old Fritz Ostermueller, the Pirates' 41-year-old lefthander, yielded only three safeties. Only Redbird run was the result of a hit batsman, a sacrifice and Red Schoendienst's second hit of the game, a single. Pittsburgh's only tally resulted from Murtaugh's double and a single by Catcher Clyde Kluttz.

Stopped from hitting for the first time in 13 games was the Cardinals' Stan Musial.

Heafner's 135 Paces Field in Ft. Worth Golf

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 29 (AP)—Better than a third of the field was within a range of six strokes today when the $15,000 Colonial National invitation golf tournament rolled into its third round with Clayton Haefner, the Charlotte (N.C.) strong man, lumbering along at the head.

Heafner's 135 for 36 holes gave him an edge of three over Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa.

From Locke and Mangrum down through eight other players you couldn't see daylight.

Chicago Team Wins Five-Man Title in A.B.C.

DETROIT, May 29 (AP) — The 80-day American Bowling Congress tournament winds up tonight when the last of 14,018 doubles teams and 27,965 individual entries complete their schedule.

The final card will be monopolized by New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Illinois keglers.

Chicago's Washington Shirts are the 1948 team champions. The final 80 quintets that took their turns last night fell far short of the top 3007 total of the Chicago squad.

The winners hit their high tally April 30, and this is how they did it:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Russell Creamer | 223 | 231 | 185 | 639 |
| Jack Bishop | 184 | 213 | 242 | 639 |
| Franklin Young | 219 | 181 | 175 | 575 |
| Arthur Butler | 186 | 188 | 185 | 559 |
| Joseph Traubenik | 244 | 181 | 170 | 595 |
| Totals | 1056 | 997 | 957 | 3007 |

The forty-fifth renewal of the pin classic, which opened with a high-scoring tempo, dwindled to a low ebb during the closing weeks. The 3007 score of the Washingtons is the lowest title total since 1922, when the Lincoln Lifes of Fort Wayne, Ind., won with a 2998 count.

Prizes amounting to $95,511 will be given to 960 teams in the regulars division. Low score to cash in is approximately 2659.

High 10 prize winners in the team event:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Washington Shirts, Chicago | 3007 | $2500 |
| Cavoli Restaurant, Cleveland | 3002 | $2200 |
| Peerless Tool & Engineering, Chicago | 2990 | $2000 |
| MacInnis Brothers, Detroit | 2985 | $1800 |
| Pacific Pumps, Tulsa, Okla. | 2982 | $1600 |
| Vulcan Engineering, Detroit | 2980 | $1400 |

Platt and Moss Knock Successive 4-Baggers For Browns Off Trucks

By Dent McSkimming

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, May 29—Although he had allowed only one hit in two innings and was leading in runs, 2-0, Sam Zoldak was removed from the pitching mound by Manager Zack Taylor here this afternoon as the Browns opposed the Detroit Tigers.

The obvious reason for Zoldak's removal was his tendency toward wildness. He issued a base on balls to the first batter to face him in the second inning and he did the same thing in the third. A double play saved Sam from trouble in that second inning but Manager Taylor apparently thought it was hoping for too much to expect another Brownie double play. The man who walked in the third inning later scored off Relief Pitcher Al Widmar, reducing the Browns' lead to 2-1.

Whitey Platt and Les Moss straightened that matter out by hitting successive home runs off Virgil Trucks in the fourth inning. Platt's was a line drive into the right-center field stand.

The first ladies' day crowd of the season was estimated at 3500.

Hubbard, McKinley and McGowan were the umpires.

The play-by-play:

FIRST INNING — TIGERS — Lake flied to Zarilla. Mayo fouled to Dillinger. Mullin sent a short fly to Platt.

BROWNS—Dillinger doubled to right. Dillinger took third on a passed ball. Stevens walked. Priddy fouled to Vico. Zarilla struck out. Lehner singled to center, scoring Dillinger, Stevens stopping at second. Platt singled to right, scoring Stevens and sending Lehner to third, but Platt was out trying for second, Mullin to Swift to Mayo. TWO RUNS.

SECOND — TIGERS — Evers walked. Wertz singled to center, Evers stopping at second. Vico flied to Platt. Lipon hit into a double play, Dillinger to Priddy to Stevens.

BROWNS—Moss struck out. Dente singled to center. Zoldak singled to center, Dente stopping at second. Dillinger lined to Vico, who tagged out Zoldak for a double play.

THIRD — TIGERS — Swift walked. Zoldak was taken out and Widmar pitched for the Browns. Trucks walked. Lake forced Trucks, Dente to Priddy. Mayo singled to right, scoring Swift, Lake stopping at second. Mullin was called out on strikes. Widmar threw out Evers. ONE RUN.

BROWNS — Stevens fouled to Swift. Priddy walked. Zarilla fouled to Swift. Lehner grounded to Mayo, who stepped on second, forcing Priddy.

FOURTH — TIGERS — Wertz tapped to Widmar. Vico flied to Zarilla. Lipon walked. Dillinger threw out Swift.

BROWNS — Platt hit into the right-center field pavilion seats for his second home run of the season. Moss then followed with a home run into the left field bleachers, also his second of the season. Dente fouled to Mullin. Widmar was called out on strikes. Dillinger flied to evers. TWO RUNS.

FIFTH—TIGERS — Wakefield batted for Trucks and grounded to Priddy. Lake walked. Mayo forced Lake, Priddy to Dente, and when Dente threw wild in trying for a double play, Mayo reached second on the error. Mullin flied to Zarilla.

BROWNS—Overmire pitched for the Tigers. Stevens walked. Stevens stole second. Priddy singled to left, Stevens stopping at third. Zarilla walked, filling the bases. Lehner fouled to Vico near the Tiger bullpen and Stevens scored, Priddy took third and Zarilla second after the catch. Platt flied to Wertz, Priddy scoring and Zarilla moving to third. Lipon threw out Moss. TWO RUNS.

BROWNS WIN NIGHT THRILLER DILLINGER

By Dent McSkimming

It looks as though Bob Dillinger is on his way.

Suppressing the urge to run in the early season games, the Browns' third baseman and reigning champion in the art of stealing bases, has not been in the limelight this season as he was last. At training camp Bob said he had no intention of trying to excell his record of last season when he stole 34 bases.

"It's too hard on the legs," he explained. "It takes too much out of a fellow in a hard season."

That all sounded logical, but Bob is a base-running genius and it is well known that genius is not logical.

It is not surprising, then, to find that robbing Robert seems to have forgotten his springtime caution. Last night he stole third base twice as the Browns defeated the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4.

Top Thief of League.

Dillinger leads his team and the league with seven thefts.

Trying to steal third base is scarcely worth the risk, some baseball men think. It's a spectacular maneuver but it rarely helps in the run scoring. But Dillinger's second steal of third last night was worth all the risk because he set up the play that gave the Browns their winning run.

It was in the seventh inning. He led off with a single off Pitcher Al Benton's glove. Chuck Stevens sacrificed him to second and he stole third. The Detroit infield played in close to cut off the big run at the plate if Jerry Priddy should hit the ball on the ground. Priddy did hit the ball on the ground but it was right over second base and into center field, Dillinger scoring what proved the winning run.

It happens that Priddy's grounder was a base hit only because the infielders were playing close in. Had Dillinger remained on second base, those infielders would have been playing back and Eddie Mayo would have fielded Priddy's ball for an out.

Bob's earlier steal was made with Art Houtteman doing the pitching. He got a fine jump in both cases off the pitcher.

But it took grand relief pitching by Frank Biscan to hold the Tigers safe so that Dillinger and Priddy and others could win the game.

Middie Crews Sweep Regatta With Cornell

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 29 (UP)—Navy dropped Cornell from the ranks of undefeated Eastern crews today, sweeping the mile and three-quarters course on the Severn to finish a length and a quarter ahead of the Big Red.

As President Truman, Secretary of Navy John L. Sullivan and a host of other dignitaries watched, the Middie shell kept pace with three other Navy boats which already had won their races to give the academy a clean sweep of the regatta.

Navy's varsity jumped into an early lead, stretched it to a length and a half at the mile mark and then fought off a Cornell rally which at one time closed the gap to three quarters of a length. But then Navy was off again, moving away at the finish. Navy's time [illegible] 9:54, Cornell's 9:58.8.

Granite City Wins in State Tourney Final

PEORIA, Ill., May 29 (AP) — Granite City, a strict darkhorse entry, won the Illinois State High School baseball championship last night by defeating New Athens 4-1.

Granite City, which entered the tournament with an 8-7 record—poorest of the field—was limited to six hits by New Athens pitcher Bud Wirts, but they were made at opportune times. Catcher Carl Linhart led the attack with two triples. His second three-bagger in the third inning drove in two runs.

In the second inning, Linhart led off with a triple and scored on Art Borcher's single. Jim Tadich's double drove home the other Granite City run in the sixth.

New Athens' only run came in the second. Emil Klingenfus singled and eventually scored on Bill Schrieber's single.

In the semi-finals, Granite City beat Niles Township, 7 to 2. Granite City bunched its eight hits for seven runs. Ed Soergel, Niles first baseman, started the game with a home run.

New Athens defeated Spalding High of Peoria 6 to 4 in the other semi-final. The Klingenfus brothers, Emil and Bob, got New Athens off to a four-run lead in the first inning. Emil doubled with the bases loaded, scoring two runs, and Bob singled to register two more. Pitcher Virgil Loeschs of New Athens struck out eight, retiring the last 15 batters in order.

Miss Fry Loses In Paris Final

PARIS, May 29 (UP) — Mrs. Nelly Landry of France won the French international women's tennis singles championship today when she defeated Miss Shirley Fry of Akron, O., 6-2, 0-6, 6-0.

The 32-year-old French star, who gained the final round when her scheduled semi-final opponent, Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, the defending champion, walked out on the match, had too much experience for the 20-year-old Miss Fry, playing in her first international final.

Except in the second set when Mrs. Landry seemed to tire, Miss Fry never was able to find her usual game.

With Miss Fry's defeat, Americans still had a chance to win three of the remaining four titles to be decided today.

Fonville and Gordien Set Records in Big Ten Meet

MADISON, Wis., May 29 (AP)—Two new records—the shot put and the discus—were in the Western Conference record books today as the finals of the forty-eighth annual outdoor track meet opened at Camp Randall.

Michigan's Charley Fonville and Minnesota's Fortune Gordien, as expected, shattered the Big Nine marks in yesterday's preliminaries dominated by Ohio State in the chase for team laurels. Each of the weight men has three more throws in his pet event today.

Fonville, who has a world record of 58 feet ⅜ inch up for approval, pegged the 16-pound shot 54 feet 10 inches, bettering his own year-old mark by nine inches. Gordien flipped the discus 174 feet 4 inches to erase the conference record of 174 feet 1 inch set in 1941 by Archie Harris of Indiana.

The title-favored Buckeyes lived up to their advance billing, too, with 16 qualifiers in the nine preliminaries. Defending champion Illinois and Michigan were next with nine and eight, respectively. The rest of the field trailed, Northwestern qualifying seven men, Indiana and Minnesota six each, Wisconsin four and Iowa and Purdue one each.

Ohio State placed four men among the nine qualifying in three heats of the 880-yard run, although defending champion Herb Barten of Michigan ran the fastest time, 1:56, which wiped out the stadium record set 32 years ago.

LOS ANGELES, May 29 (AP)—It was on to further trials along the trail toward the Olympic games today for the Trojans of Southern California, champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, after a track and field meet that brought more disappointments than thrills.

For the second week in a row, mishaps marred a major cinder path carnival last night. Listed in order, they were:

Anticipated record breaking performances by Pell-Mel Patton of U.S.C. in the dashes didn't come off because Patton came up with a cramped leg muscle. He may not compete until the N.C.A.A. championships at Minneapolis and the Big Nine-Coast loop struggle at Evanston, Ill., next month.

A similar mishap to Washington State's Dick Keniston in the sprints, which robbed the Cougars of possible victory later in the mile relay.

The spill involving Ron Frazier of U.S.C. and Dick Cotton of California during the relay, eliminating both teams from the race.

Anyhow, the Trojans copped the Coast Conference title for the eighth straight year. The night's top honors went to hurdler Craig Dixon, of U.C.L.A., who cracked two of the three meet records broken in winning the low and high sticks.

Runner-up honors fell to California's Donnie Anderson, who won both dashes and equalled the meet record of 9.6 seconds in the 100-yard dash as shared by Clyde Jeffrey of Stanford (1939) and Hal Davis, California (1940).

The Trojans accumulated 47½ points to U.C.L.A.'s 41½. Trailing were: Stanford 38½; California 35½; Washington State and Washington, 21 each; Oregon, 9½; Montana, 5; Oregon State, 3½ and Idaho one.

Dixon ran the high hurdles in 14.1 seconds, eclipsing the meet mark of 14.4 shared by Steve Anderson of Washington (1928) and Sam Klopstock, Stanford (1936). Then he came back to win the lows in 23.2, breaking the 23.3 held by Earl Vickery, U.S.C. (1939) and Lee Orr, Oregon State (1940).

Form Prevails In the I.C.4A.; Karver Repeats

NEW YORK, May 29 (UP)—Leading all the way, Penn State's Gerald Karver, the defending titlist, became the first champion crowned in the IC4A track and [illegible]ough Stadium today when he mile run in 4:17.5.

George Thompson of Villanova was second and Ron Wittreich of Princeton, third.

Karver's fractional times were: 62.8, 2:07.5, and 3:14.1.

Harvard's Sam Felton, won the hammer throw when he whipped the big ball 175 feet, 4½ inches, more than four feet ahead of second place George Marsnaskis of Maine. Third went to Bob Miller of Rhode Island.

Form continued to hold as Vic Frank of Yale became the second successful defending champion by retaining the discus crown with a spin of 165 feet, 8⅞ inches. Felton finshed second, 11 feet back with North Carolina's Bob Seligman third.

Sixth at the head of the stretch and apparently out of it, defending champion Reggie Pearman of N.Y.U. swung around the pack with a blazing kick which brought him home inches ahead of Seton Hall's Frank Fox in the 440-yard run. oFrdhæm's Hal McDonnell finished third.

Off to a flying start, Michigan State's Paige Christiansen won the 120 yard high hurdles as he pleased in 14.9 seconds, followed by George Cook of Yale and Dana Payne of Princeton.

Favored Paul Cowie of Princeton, almost left at the post, caught the 100-yard dash field at the 30-yard mark and pulled ahead to win in 9.6—equalling the intercollegiate mark set by Frank Wykoff and tied by Barney Ewell. N.Y.U.'s Ira Kaplan took second and Brown's Bill Dwyer the show.

Macauley Named Billiken Captain

It had been several days since any honors had been voted "Easy Ed" Macauley of St. Louis U., so the basketball squad, in a meeting last night at Creve Coeur Lake Lodge, elected Ed captain for next season. The vote was unanimous.

Bill Durney, man of many jobs, drew a little dividend on his activities, too. Father P. J. Holloran S.J., president of the university, announced award of an honorary letter to Bill.

Illinois Loses, Drops To Tie for the Lead

COLUMBUS, O., May 29 (AP)—Pitchin' Pete Perini rationed Illinois batters to six scattered hits yesterday and Ohio State blanked the Illini, 6-0, in a big nine baseball game that scrambled the conference standings.

It was Illinois' second defeat of the season and formed them into a deadlock for the big nine lead with Michigan. Michigan topped Northwestern, 8-0.

Burdette Thurlby, Illini right fielder, was injured in the fourth frame when he collided with Second baseman Herb Plews going after Perini's Texas League double.

Stranahan Wins British Golf Title

Rain Cuts Gallery to 100 Persons

SANDWICH, England, May 29 (UP) — Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., muscular heir to spark plug millions, won the British amateur golf championship today by defeating Charles Stowe of Britain, 5 to 4, in a driving rainstorm.

Undaunted by the worst weather that a British amateur championship ever has seen in 53 years, the rivals wound up all even at the end of the morning 18-hole round before Stranahan came through with some superlative golf to close out the match on the thirty-second hole.

In becoming the ninth American to win the title, Stranahan piled up most of his victory margin on the outgoing nine holes of the afternoon round, gaining a 4-up edge.

The American took five of the first six holes, then lost two to the 39-year-old British automobile mechanic, and won the ninth for a comfortable lead at the 27-hole mark.

They halved the first four holes of the incoming nine and then Stranahan applied the clincher with a birdie 4 on the thirty-second hole.

Stranahan succeeds Willie Turnesa of White Plains, N.Y., as the champion. Turnesa was eliminated yesterday in the semi-finals by Stowe.

Previous American winners of the tournament were Walter J. Travis, who won in 1904; Jesse Sweetser, 1926; Bobby Jones, 1930; Lawson Little, 1934 and 1935; Robert Sweeny, 1938, and Charlie Yates, 1938.

A driving rain, slashed by bitter winds from the North Sea, prevented the finalists from playing their best golf, although their performances were considered remarkable in view of the adverse weather conditions.

The temperature was in the 40s and a gallery of only 15 fans—the smallest ever recorded for a British amateur title—was on hand as the players teed off. The crowd swelled to almost 100 for the afternoon round.

The morning cards:

Van Reen's Rough Riders Gallop to a Track Sweep; Second Place to Jackets

Clay Van Reen today is definitely established as one of the outstanding high school track coaches in the district. The distinction came about when his Roosevelt team completed a sweep of major honors in the district this spring by winning the thirty-eighth annual Interscholastic field day last night at the Public Schools Stadium.

The victory enabled the Rough Riders to retain their championship of last year, also won under the direction of Van Reen, making Clay a worthy successor to Harry Castleman and Leo Granger who formerly turned out winners for the Crimson.

Right Down The Line.

Victory in the Field Day completed a banner season which saw triumphs in the Maplewood Relays, District meet, Public High relays and State outdoor meet. Travel limitations imposed by the league prevented the Riders from going after further honors in the area.

Roosevelt finished first in both senior and junior divisions, beating out Beaumont in each instance. Central, third in the juniors after Don Fritz won four events for a total of 32 points, also finished third in the meet despite a mere five points for the seniors. The Red Wings wound up with 41½ points, far behind Roosevelt's 151 1-10 and Beaumont's 97 1-6.

Fritz, who recently won junior honors for Central in the district by his one-man exhibition, won as many events as he was permitted to enter in the Field Day competition. He took the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, the 120-yard low hurdles and the broad jump.

Lindquist Sets Mile Mark.

Two meet records were set, one a mile mark which had stood for four years. Bob Lindquist of Cleveland was timed in 4:39.6 to better the 1944 mark of 4:40.9 set by Bert Enfield of Blewett. Lindquist tied up with Blewett's two milers, Norman Ulrich and Gil Layton, and Roosevelt's distance runner, Gene Edwards. Lindquist beat Ulrich in a sprint after the last turn, while Layton faded to fourth and Edwards came in third.

Roosevelt's senior medley relay team accounted for the other record. The quartet of George Parker, Bill Dill, Marvin Landgraf and Jack Applebaum bettered the mark it set in last week's preliminaries with a time of 1:36.6. The record made last week was 1:37.8 while the former mark of 1:39.9 was established last year by Roosevelt.

A field of 12 top three-year-old pacers will go to the post in the $3000 stake, feature of tonight's harness racing program at Fairmount Park. One of the top entries is the filly, Merry Way, owned by the Castleton Farm Stable, Lexington, Ky., which had a record of 2:02 3-5 last season, only a fraction off the world's record for two-year-old pacing fillies.

Others in the feature include Navy Hal, a winner earlier this week at Fairmount; Liliolkid, that created a sensation at Santa Anita; Hand Book, the Ohio colt that was a big winner last year; Titan Hal, another from the Buckeye State that will have a strong following and Josedale-on-Parade.

The sixth race, for trotters, includes Clever Sunny, Lingo Direct, Peaceful Abbey, Porter Day, Patwin, Volarion and Scottish Maid that have been prominent on major tracks for several seasons.

Scottish Boy, nine-year-old gelding, won both heats of the feature event at the opening of a two-weeks' Grand Circuit program last night.

The black pacer also won both halves of the feature at the opening of the track a week ago.

Owned by Mrs. Sam Cordovanos of Toledo and driven by Ken Cartnal, Scottish Boy finished the mile in 2:04 4-5, fastest time for the meet. He paid $4.20, $3.60 and $3. Twelve horses competed. Prince Richard was second and Miss Ruby third.

Scottish Boy then came back in the second half of the free-for-all and eased in by a nose. Chief Direct was second and Angus Worthy third. The winner paid $3.80, $3.40 and $2.80.

The attendance was 6512 and the mutuel handle $65,199.

PROFESSOR NAMED ON MORALS CHARGE RELEASED ON BOND

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 29—E. K. Johnston, professor of advertising at Missouri University's Journalism School, was free on $3500 bond today after pleading not guilty yesterday on a morals charge. A preliminary hearing has been set for June 11.

Allen McReynolds, of Carthage, president of the university's board of curators, was to meet with members of the State Highway Patrol at Jefferson City today to obtain a full report of the case. The meeting was arranged by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly after Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the patrol, gave the Governor a report of the patrol's investigation.

Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, university president, announced yesterday that Johnston had been relieved of his duties "pending further determination of his position by the board of curators."

Warren W. Heathman of Rolla, instructor in the Veterans' Administration on-the-farm training program, and William Douglas Coots, clerk in a jewelry store here, were arrested with Johnston. They waived preliminary hearings and were bound over to the circuit court.

DELIVERY OF JESSE JAMES'S MAIL BECOMES PROBLEM

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 29 (AP)—Now that Jesse James is back in the news the postoffice has the problem of what to do with his mail.

It has been delivering it to the Jesse James Hotel here. Mrs. Don Miller, the hotel owner, said that among the letters was one from a 14-year-old youth who wrote:

"I've always thought of you, Mr. James, as a brother, and would like to know all about you and your brother, Frank, of how you did live and how your life ran and ended. He added: "I hope you don't mind if I call you Jesse because it sounds better than Mr. James." Mrs. Miller said she would answer the letter.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 29 (AP)—The 100-year-old Oklahoman who claims he is Jesse James flunked his test, Toll Narramore declared yesterday. Narramore, born and reared in the area where the James brothers committed their depredations, had posed three key questions to the man in Lawton, Okla., who asserts he is Jesse James. Narramore said correct answers to the questions would mean the man was James. Only one question was answered positively, and that answer was wrong, Narramore said.

Ozarks Canners' Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 29—The Ozarks Canners' Association will hold its fall meeting here Nov. 4 and 5 and its annual convention here Feb. 9, 10 and 11, F. R. Spurgin of Fayetteville, Ark., secretary-treasurer of the organization, reports.

WEEK'S STOCK VOLUME OFF; LIST IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, May 29 (UP)—The stock market lost its glamor this week, and prices moved irregularly in a narrow range with volume off sharply from the previous week's fast pace.

The bullishness generated when the averages crossed the 1947 highs on May 14 was tempered by a feeling the market had been overbought and that the gains must be consolidated before the forward movement could be resumed.

This week the average (Dow-Jones) touched a new high since Aug. 26, 1946, at 191.06. It closed the week at 190.74, up 0.74 point. The railroad average lost 0.84 point to close at 60.81 and the utility average finished at 35.83, up 0.06, leaving the general average at 70.40, off 0.08.

The record for the month was much different, however, showing the industrial average more than 10 points above the April close; railroad, up 2.66 points and utility, up 1.75 points.

Sales for the past week totaled 8,283,570 shares contrasted with 13,372,338 in the previous week. Sales for all of May amounted to 42,769,258, most for a May since 1933 when the month's volume was 104,213,954 shares. May was the largest for any month since September 1946.

During the week the outstanding news item was the new contract between General Motors and the auto and electrical workers' unions. That contract raised wages 11 cents an hour and hitched wages to the cost of living. This aided the automobile shares which rose to new highs. General Motors closed the week at 63¼, and Chrysler at 64⅛, each up 3⅛ points on the week which for the market ended yesterday.

Most Holders of U.S. Issue Accept Exchange.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP) — The Government will have to pay off in cash only $538,424,500 out of $4,838,993,500 in Government securities coming due in June, the Treasury disclosed.

Holders of the remaining $4,300,569,000 in maturing securities have agreed to accept in exchange new one-year, 1⅛ per cent certificates of indebtedness, the Treasury said.

The $538,424,500 payment to those preferring cash to reinvestment in the new certificates will constitute a retirement of that much of the $252,200,000,000 federal debt.

Secretary Snyder made clear that the 1⅛ per cent rate on certificates will be maintained through July as well as June.

LIVESTOCK ELSEWHERE

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Hogs sold in a $19.75 to $24.75 range today, ending a week of mixed price trends. While light weights held steady to 25c higher, heavy offerings dropped as much as 50 cents. Cattle and sheep also were nominally steady today.

Feature of the week's trading was establishment of a new record high for average steer cost. The average was $32.89 compared with $32.21 the previous week. Chief reason for the higher average price was strength in medium grade steers rather than in top quality offerings.

Medium grade steers averaged $29.50 for the week. Last January, when prime steers topped at $41.25, the average for medium grade steers was $24.88. Choice steeds this week averaged $34 compared with $37.75 in January. Common, medium and good grade steers are sharply higher than in January, which choice kinds are lower.

Major packers stayed out of the sheep market this week. Prices dropped $1.50 to $2 despite very small receipts. Eastern order demand was slow reflecting a price break in eastern wholesale markets.

Mississippi Valley Stock Yards.

Cattle—Bulk of better fed steers and heifers for the week, $30@33.50; medium beef cows, $19@22.50; bulk sausage bulls, $20@24; veal calves closed with top of $29.50.

EXPORT ALLOCATIONS, SHOWERS DROP WHEAT

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—All grains turned downward on the Board of Trade Today, unsettled by showers in the wheat belt and a substantial cut in July export allocations. The market opened lower and never was able to get to the previous close. Losses ranged to a couple of cents at times.

Soybeans also were lower after several days of sharp upswings. Traders said the reaction was mainly technical, although some raised a question as to whether the Senate would get around to voting on the oleo tax bill before the ending of Congress.

Wheat closed 1¼@1⅞c lower, July $2.34½@¼; corn was 1½@1¾c lower, July $2.15¼@½; oats were ¼@1⅛c lower, July 91¼@⅝c, and soybeans 2c to 3½c lower, July $4.14.

The Weather Bureau predicted scattered thundershowers over the western portions of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska today and over all of these three states tonight and Sunday. It is the western portion of these states which is most in need of moisture.

The July grain export allocations, announced overnight by the Agriculture Department, were set at 40,708,000 bushels, of which 38,521,000 bushels were wheat and flour. Last year the July allocations totaled 75,605,000 bushels. Inasmuch as July is the start of the new crop year, the decline indicated less exports for the year were in prospect.

ITU HEAD TELLS CONGRESS TAFT-HARTLEY LAW WILL DESTROY THE UNION IN TIME

Asserts to 'Watchdog' Committee the Printers Would Be Better Off if This Legislation and With It the Wagner Act Were Repealed—Randolph and Ball Clash.

By JOSEPH HANLON
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 29 — The policy of the AFL International Typographical Union in seeking to preserve the substance if not the form of the closed shop, now outlawed by the Taft-Hartley Act, was expounded before the congressional watchdog committee on labor-management relations yesterday by the union's president, Woodruff Randolph.

Randolph's aggressive defense of the union's policy brought him into head-on collision with the committee chairman, Senator Joseph H. Ball (Rep.), Minnesota, who told the union president at one point: "I'm afraid you wouldn't recognize a principle if you saw one."

"I understand we have some fundamental differences of opinion," Randolph replied curtly.

"I think we have," Ball agreed.

Randolph's Position.

Randolph's point was that the union has not in any case asked for a closed shop agreement since the Taft-Hartley Act became law. But there was, he maintained, an essential difference between a closed shop agreement — outlawed by the Taft-Hartley Act — and a closed shop condition which printers, by unilateral action, might bring about.

They sought to do this by adopting, at their last national convention, a union "law" which sets out that no union printer will work with a non-union printer. The practice had been, in collective bargaining agreements, to make the union "laws" a part of the contract.

This situation has led to several prolonged strikes, the issuance of an injunction against the union, and the filing against it of unfair labor practice charges before the National Labor Relations Board.

Cites Employer View.

Committee Counsel Thomas E. Shroyer told Randolph his assumption that a union had a right to establish "laws" which prescribed working conditions appeared to be exactly the reverse of what was heard from the Liberty League when the Wagner Act was passed in 1935—that employers had an historic right to determine working conditions.

"And they still do," Randolph replied. "All we are saying is that when we bargain as the law requires, if after 60 days there is no agreement, they can do what they want to do, and we can do what we want to do."

"Associations of employers don't have any right to pass 'laws,'" Ball interjected.

"That's exactly what they have done," Randolph said. He referred to testimony given at trial of the injunction suit about advice the American Newspaper Publishers' Association had given its members on the subject of bargaining with printers.

"But not all employers have followed that advice," Ball observed.

"That," said Randolph, "is the reason we are alive today and able to talk about this matter—because there are some decent employers."

Policy of Printers.

Randolph argued that it had been the traditional policy of the printers to meet and decide on the terms on which they would sell their services, just as "doctors, lawyers, and a host of other tradesmen and professional men." When this is done, he said, the customer is free to pay the price, or refuse to pay it and decline the services.

"We cannot believe," he said, "that a group of citizens may not bind themselves to do those things which it is lawful for them as individuals to do."

He said he wasn't sure the union had found the right way of dealing with the problem as it saw it, but was sure that the union had a right to try to find ways of "lessening the hazards of ill-conceived and hastily passed legislation" and to have the courts decide whether it was right or wrong.

"We will live within the law," he said, "but first we will insist on our right to know authoritatively what it is."

He granted that the law imposed a duty on both union and employer to bargain in good faith, but insisted it did not require that agreement be reached.

"If bargaining does not result in agreement," he added, "it is clear that thereafter either party may resume its freedom to fix its own conditions of employment. It is obvious that the employer must have that right unless the Government is going to take over his business and tell him how to run it. We insist on the same right, but the general counsel (of the National Labor Relations Board) insists that we thereby violate the law."

Randolph proposed that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended to repeal those sections which describe unfair labor practices by labor organizations, and to eliminate the "degrading" requirement for the filing of non-Communist affidavits by union officers. The typographical union, which is not known as one in which there is Communist influence, is among the unions which have refused to file these affidavits. They must be filed before a union can present any matters to the NLRB.

Proposes Hearings.

After these amendments had been made, Randolph said, Congress might hold hearings at which specific complaints against labor unions might be heard, the unions might defend themselves, and then amendments drawn to correct any actual abuses.

Randolph said he had no doubt that the Taft-Hartley Act, if it remained on the books, would, over a period of time, destroy the union.

"If you repeal the whole law, and with it of course the Wagner Act, we would be far better off than we are now," he said. "As a matter of fact, we rarely used the Wagner Act. We had developed over the years a collective bargaining procedure, and were unable to get along without it."

The Taft-Hartley Act was in the nature of an amendment to the Wagner Act. The latter was explicitly intended to encourage union organization; the clear intent of the Taft-Hartley Act was to curb the power of unions.

Employer Counselor Testifies.

Ola C. Cool, director of the Labor Relations Institute in New York, which he said was founded by him on a commercial basis to advise employers in labor relations matters, told the committee it ought to amend the Taft-Hartley Act to outlaw unions dominated by Communists, as unions dominated by employers are now outlawed.

Cool proposed also, as have some other witnesses, that the burden on the National Labor Relations Board of holding thousands of union shop authorization elections be eased by amending the law so that they could be held only on the joint petition of a union and an employer. The argument for this is that the board wastes much time in conducting elections in cases where the employer has no intention of granting the union shop in any event. Under existing law, the election must be held before a union can even ask for this type of contract.

Amendments Pending.

Although the Ball committee, which consists of members of the Senate and House Labor committees, is examining a wide range of problems arising from a year's experience with the Taft-Hartley Act, there is no prospect of any comprehensive revision of the labor legislation at this session.

Something may be done, however, about union shop elections. Amendments are pending which would eliminate the requirement for these elections, leaving the union shop question a matter to be settled by collective bargaining. As an alternative, Ball has been thinking about abolishing the union shop, just as the Taft-Hartley Act abolished the closed shop.

The present hearings are to be continued for two more weeks. Sessions next week will be devoted primarily to consideration of industry-wide bargaining and union welfare funds.

GAS DETECTOR 'BREATHES,' WARNS OF MINE DANGER

SANTA MARIA, Calif., May 29 (AP)—Inventor William C. Darby claimed today that after 17 years' experimentation he has perfected a "fool-proof" carbon monoxide gas detector.

He believes the apparatus will help avert mine disasters. The device, which he said had been tested successfully nearly 10,000 times, will soon go into production.

It is about the size of a portable radio and works on a "breather" principle, taking in air and measuring it for carbon monoxide content. It has a buzzer and red light warning device actuated by the presence of the deadly gas. The theory is that this would give miners time to reach safety before asphyxiation or an explosion.

The machine, Darby says, can be adjusted to detect and warn of varying amounts of the gas. This ranges from one part of gas in 10,000 parts of air to 30 in 10,000, which is considered an amount fatal within 30 minutes.

Darby said he began working on such a device 17 years ago after he was exposed to and nearly killed by carbon monoxide in Minneapolis. He is a University of Minnesota graduate and worked as an electrical engineer in Minneapolis and St. Paul before coming here two and one-year years ago.

KILLS SUITOR, 40, OF KIN, 17, THEN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

BRILLIANT, O., May 29 (UP)—Joseph Kinney, 68 years old, shot his young granddaughter's middle-aged suitor in a rage over the courtship and then took his own life, a Coroner's inquest showed today.

Police said Kinney killed William Pasco, 40, of Clarington, in a heated argument over Pasco's Romance with 17-year-old Toto Kinney. Kinney then left the house, police said, and turned his shotgun on himself.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST FLOOD DEATHS NOW 15; TROOPS CALLED

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29 (AP)—More thousands fled their endangered homes today in the Pacific Northwest's worst flood in 54 years.

The death toll mounted to 15 and property damage soared into uncounted millions. Main rail and highway routes were disrupted and more were threatened.

An officially declared state of emergency existed in Washington and Idaho. The militia was ordered out in British Columbia to aid the swelling number of refugees.

An ominous new note in the disastrous floods was the announcement that the waters may stay above flood stage for more than a month. Travel was disrupted in wide sections of western Canada and to a lesser extent in Washington state. The transcontinental main line of the Great Northern Railroad was cut by the Wenatchee river near Cashmere. Traffice was being rerouted over other tracks. Vancouver, B. C., had only one rail link left with eastern Canada. The main Columbia river highway east of Portland was closed by floods.

Marriage Rates As Big Business

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 29.

MARRIAGE, among other things, is a big business. Cutting like a cad through the orange-blossoms, tulle and weeping mothers-in-law, as the tender month of June approaches, let me heave a handful of statistics instead of rice.

STATISTICS

It may come as a surprise to outlying districts, but people in New York get married, too. This is a report on what it costs, on the average, after the original $2 invested in a license.

The 9981 June grooms of New York City—poor devils—will spend an average of $265 on the engagement ring and $72 on the wedding ring. They'll spend $42 for a wedding gift to the bride; $14 for her bouquet, $34 for additional flowers, including her going-away corsage; $10 for the minister; $50 for gifts to best men and ushers; $10 for a car to get to the scene of surrender; $200 for new clothes; $140 for the honeymoon, and $695 for new furniture.

It averages up to $1342 per groom, plus, of course, the deuce for the permit.

★ ★ ★

THE DAMOZELS will brush the dew from their eyes long enough to buy (or have the family buy) a $65 wedding ensemble; spend $270 for other clothes; buy $200 worth of household goods; $20 worth of invitations and announcements; blow $50 on gifts for the bride's attendants; $100 for flowers and music; $100 for the reception; $50 for cars and $20 for wedding photographs.

The bride's father and mother spend about $75 between them for clothes, and $100 for a wedding gift. Friends of the loving couple race out to buy new clothes and those inevitable darling little shell-shaped ash trays. The average New York couple receives 17 gifts, which average $7 each. In turn, 62 per cent of all wedding gifts are exchanged.

★ ★ ★

IT ALL ADDS UP, my exhausted statisticians report, to $2443. Multiply that by 9981 marriages—scheduled in New York for the month of June—and it levels off to an imposing $24,383,583. Multiply that by the 96,754 marriages to be committed in Greater New York this year and you get something in the dizzy neighborhood of a quarter of a billion dollars. Yes, billion.

Of the 9981 marriages scheduled for next month in New York, 3094—or 31 per cent—will involve survivors of previous matrimonial crashes. Depressingly, if the average holds up, 32 per cent of the first timers will find their way to Reno, Las Vegas, Miami or other renowned separation centers.

The marriages will range in splendor from the stunning affairs at St. Patrick's or St. Bartholomew's—with rugs leading directly to Sherry's—to the quickies at City Hall, where it is not unusual to see a bride arrive in a rented veil and have her gum-chewing mate hold her half-finished popsicle during the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

SOME OF the weddings will run into thousands of dollars; some will go for the minimum $2—with a promise to take care of the disgruntled City Hall man soon as the bride gets a job. It is interesting to note, however, that New York brides average out to a $16 veil and a $49 gown.

I don't know how this compares with Tobacco Road, or Peru, but the average New York bride is 23½ years old. Her ever-loving mate is a beaten-up old bum who is four years and seven months older. He therewith ages rapidly.

Please don't get the idea that I look with a dour stare on the estate of matrimony. I am not given to rash predictions, but I'd bet it's here to stay. And the gal with the half-finished popsicle has just as much of a chance for happiness as the regal lass with a noseful of bubbles from that Tiffany juice, as the late great Yussel Jacobs called champagne.

My dear wife and I had a 5-cent wedding breakfast in a Greek lunchroom in Annapolis, lo, these blissful 16 years, 10 months, six days, four hours and 13 minutes ago. It was a glass of milk. But we've been very happy . . . and I just want to add that she's the finest little woman in the world.

Okay, Dearie, you can take that knife out of my ribs now.

Penknives

By Christopher Billopp

THE penknife is a convenient instrument, always present on the person, that may be put to a variety of uses.

It can be employed to sharpen pencils, scrape the crust out of tobacco pipes, whittle pegs, make toothpicks out of matches and perform innumerable other jobs in the fields of carpentry, plumbing and electrical repair.

It is also adaptable to the preparation and serving of food as, for example, peeling and slicing fruit or bisecting pies. In the course of its long and varied career a penknife may well have been used at some time to open oysters and clams and clean fish.

★ ★ ★

STILL ANOTHER FIELD in which the penknife is active is that of minor surgery. It is ideal for the removal of splinters and thorns and similar operations. When so employed the penknife is not customarily sterilized, whatever it may have been doing before.

Owners refuse to spoil its temper or invite rust by treating it to a bath in boiling water. They are more interested in protecting the penknife than protecting themselves.

★ ★ ★

ONE WOULD IMAGINE that this bold and outrageous violation of the fundamental rules of modern surgery would immediately bring retribution to the owners. It would seem both logical and inevitable that they should come down with infections of a very serious nature. This, in spite of their protests, that they were careful to wipe the blade on their sleeve before performing the operation.

In short, the wonder is that all owners of penknives do not sooner or later meet tragic ends through the promiscuous use of their penknives. On the contrary, only a few succumb and the vast majority live to a ripe old age.

The only explanation for this phenomenon is that the germ theory must be very much exaggerated, or else the owners of penknives lead charmed lives.

What Am I Saying!

SOME families, I've noticed, have enough trouble to be a radio serial. Trouble is a contradictory commodity. It's something a lot of people look for—but nobody really wants.

LIFEGUARDS RESCUE DEER

Lifeguards at Topanga Canyon, Calif., complete an unusual rescue, bringing in a deer that was swimming a quarter mile from shore. A woman motorist spotted the animal and called the guards. In the roles of "paddleboard cowboys," they herded the swimmer back to land, lassoed it and carted it back to its canyon habitat on their board.

CYCLOTRON MAN HEADS U.S. NAVY NUCLEONICS

Franz Kurie, at Washington U. 2 Years, to Organize New Research Laboratory.

Franz Kurie, director of Washington University's cyclotron for the last two years, has been named to organize a new nuclear physics research laboratory for the United States Navy at Washington, he said yesterday. He will report to Washington July 15 on a leave of absence from the university.

Kurie has been appointed superintendent of the nucleonics division of the Naval Research Laboratory. His job, he said, will be to direct a "broad program of research on nuclear physics and nuclear engineering" in addition to research now being done under Navy contract at various private institutions. He was not at liberty to disclose further details.

An associate professor of physics at Washington University, he came here from a special wartime branch of the University of California at San Diego, where he directed engineering work in the sonar devices division of an Office of Scientific Research and Development laboratory.

He aided in development of transducers, mine detection devices and sound counter-measure equipment used by the Navy in underwater warfare. For his work he received a certificate of commendation from V. Adm. E. W. Mills.

He is a native of Victor, Calif., and received his Ph.D. degree in physics from Yale University in 1932. Going to the University of California in 1933, he helped develop the first cyclotron at California. In 1938 he moved to the University of Indiana to build a cyclotron there. He is 41 years old and lives at 6918 Millbrook boulevard, University City, on the university campus.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

IT'S the Saturday nights that get me down. I can manage somehow to think I'm doing all right until on Saturday morning I hear all the gals at the office discuss what they and their dates have planned for that evening, and I feel sunk.

I broke with the boy I had dated for over a year, not many Saturdays ago, by the calendar. But already it seems years. I have been seeing my girl friends, have joined a Spanish class, am taking dancing lessons. In fact, every night is usually filled except that fearful Saturday. Then I'm ready to swim away in a pool of tears, remembering the fun we used to have. Any suggestions for me? DATELESS.

If you will continue the round you have begun it won't be long before you are back in the swim again, having peppy Saturday nights like the rest of the girls. But tears aren't going to get you anywhere. So dry them, refuse to be sorry for yourself and pitch in on those Saturday nights at home and get in some relaxing. After all, with a full program such as yours, a gal needs one evening to rest up in, doesn't she? Try to forget the evening happens to be Saturday, and forget where everyone else is. Pop into bed and curl up with a best seller; catch up on your correspondence; listen peacefully to your favorite radio programs. Pretend the one thing you wanted most was to be alone and you'll convince yourself of it, and will really discover you have spent an enjoyable evening in spite of present and, I am sure, transient circumstances.

* * *

IN ANSWER TO "Two Readers": This information has been so often in this column that I do not feel I can repeat it at present. If you will repeat your question and mail me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply I'll be glad to send you the names and details you have in mind.

* * *

IN ANSWER TO "Tufts": If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll mail you my "Guide for the Bride" and "Showers for the Bride." Yes, sometimes the bridesmaids do wear white, in which case they wear sashes, carry bouquets of color.

* * *

IN ANSWER TO "Jerry": There is nothing you can do to prevent your girl friend remaining outside to talk to the boys. If she chooses to make herself conspicuous under the circumstances you describe that is her affair, but it is unwise.

* * *

IN ANSWER TO "Mrs. B.": You cannot patent an idea, so better have the object made and then pay your visit to the patent attorney.

Modern Marriage

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

WHEN an irresistible force meets an immovable object, there will certainly have to be a compromise. Mr. and Mrs. H. are not quite as extreme as the old figure of speech suggests, but they are far apart in temperament. That is no handicap to marriage, provided they recognize the differences and deal with them intelligently. The opposite, in which people resemble each other completely, would be a dull situation.

Discussing the famous friendship of Bright and Cobden, the English statesmen of nearly a century ago whose influence meant a great deal to the United States, a biographer remarked that they were "enough alike for harmony but not enough alike for boredom." That's a good formula for any friendship, including the deepest and most worthwhile of all friendships, that of marriage.

* * *

THE DIFFERENCE in the H. family is that Mrs. H. lives under pressure, and likes to do so. She enjoys being on the go. She can't sit still and do nothing. Mr. H. is a quiet and retiring sort of a fellow, who doesn't particularly enjoy meeting people. "He'd rather sit at home and read all evening than go out and have a good time," Mrs. H. protests.

"She doesn't seem to have any resources of her own," Mr. H. complains. "When I get home in the evening I'm tired and want to rest. She's just ready to start. She has to go places and do things. She'll wear me out."

There are plenty of marriages like that, and the only way to keep them out of trouble is to recognize the source of trouble in this difference of personalities, and then make a sensible adjustment to it.

* * *

IF MRS. H. drags her husband out every night she will wear him out—he's correct in that. If she never gets a chance to go out, she'll explode—figuratively, at least!

Obviously, the easiest way to meet her needs is for her to go out more during the daytime. Mr. H. will have to concede her at least one evening a week; two would be better. Even though he'd rather stay at home, he'll go out with her, and they'll pick something that both enjoy.

She will have to plan her life so that she can go out during the daytime—every day, if she can organize herself well enough to permit it. She can pick out the activities that are most profitable to her and throw herself into them. When evening comes, she'll have to find something to do at home most of the time.

* * *

QUESTION: In his great new book, "Family and Civilization," Dr. Carle C. Zimmerman of Harvard University ridicules scientific writers in this field on the ground that most of them are bachelors, divorcees, childless or unhappily married. I have heard this is true of newspaper columnists, too. For the benefit of your readers, Dr. Popenoe, are you willing to tell us your own status?

A. No trouble to answer questions! I have one wife and four sons.

Q. I have a husband who etc., etc. . . . Where can I get in touch with Alcoholics Anonymous?

A. In any city; look in the phone book. Otherwise, address national headquarters, Alcoholics Anonymous, Box 459, Grand Central Annex, New York 17, N.Y.

Q. It's useless for you to try to tell old people to be young.

A. I never tried. It would be not only useless but dangerous. But it is quite proper for them to do their best to feel young.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A DESERTED wife asks: "Shouldn't my husband's name be used on the wedding invitations, regardless of the following conditions: We live at separate addresses but are not legally separated. My husband wants me to give him a divorce and, as a result of my refusal, will have nothing to do with giving our daughter's wedding. I shall not give him a divorce because I do not believe in letting a man leave his family for another woman. Therefore, rather than emphasize this family breach, for my daughter's sake wouldn't it be feasible to use his name—"Mr. and Mrs."—even though he won't be present or pay for a thing?"

Since you still are legally married, and absence of his name may cause embarrassment to your daughter, there could be no impropriety in your sending out the conventional "Mr. and Mrs." invitations, even though he neither will be present nor share in the wedding expenses.

Tell Parents Of Changes In Education

By Angelo Patri

ONCE in a generation something different is introduced in the methods of teaching. The usual procedure is for the superintendent to tell the principals about it, train a few teachers in the new method, and send them and the principals into the schools to instruct the teachers.

A brief conference is all that is needed to instruct the experienced teachers. They, having a background of educational knowledge and of the ways of the educational leaders, get the idea quickly. They may not like it, but they understand what is wanted and set about getting it done.

* * *

BUT PARENTS don't understand it at all. They were taught in another day, in another style, and they are confused and troubled by the new way the teachers are teaching their children. "What? You don't know your letters? How can you read without knowing your letters?" "How is this? You're subtracting, aren't you? Then why in the world are you adding?" That sort of thing antagonizes parents and makes the children anxious.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to tell the mothers about such changes in methods? Explain the idea underlying a new program? Tell what an activity program should mean to pupils, teachers and parents? It is the parents who need to know. The teachers already know.

When this explanation is given and the parents, gathered in conference, think it over and ask their questions, it is more than likely that both sides of the platform will be enlightened.

* * *

WERE THIS DONE before any new ways were undertaken in the school, there would be fewer half-cooked ideas introduced and therefore less time wasted, less confusion stirred, and much more good will, efficiency and contentment forwarded in school and at home.

It is my firm belief, my contention even, that supervisors should be master teachers. Among their duties should be this one of teaching parents as well as teachers the reasons for the new ways, the possible values, the latent hope that underlies the new ideas.

Children are their parents' chief concern. Schools always are asking, demanding the help of the parents. It would seem then that the parents should be at least informed about the new schemes of educating their children.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

RECENTLY I spent an evening with a brilliant young woman who has made a tremendous fight to improve racial relations in this country. Last spring she spent a long time in a hospital here in New York City and she told me that it was one of the most interesting experiences she had ever had.

Here was a hospital on the edge of Harlem—Sydenham Hospital—where racial barriers had been broken down, where there was no discrimination either in the personnel or in the treatment of patients. There are Negro and white doctors practicing in Sydenham; there are nurses and laboratory technicians working in complete harmony though they belong to different races. And the interesting thing is that it all runs so smoothly that one accepts it as a perfectly natural situation and ceases to be self-conscious about it.

* * *

THE HOSPITAL is a good hospital, but it needs improvements and it needs to be on a more secure financial basis. They are having a drive at present for $500,000, but only about half of that sum has been raised as yet and they cannot feel really secure until they have the full amount. Even more important, people who should be giving their time and thought to methods of improving the institution are obliged to give it to the task of getting money to meet the immediate needs.

One of the interesting little things that occurred when word was sent out that the hospital might have to close for lack of funds was a telephone call from a man who offered to lend his lifesavings of $25,000 provided the money would be returned when the institution could do so. And a little 9-year-old crippled girl, Delores Grant, who had had an operation in the hospital, collected over $500. These are stories of individual effort. But the institution to reach its goal, must raise $300,000 more, since it has no endowments and no cash reserves.

I write about this because, while it is a New York hospital and should receive support primarily from New Yorkers, there must be people in other parts of the country who are anxious to see an experiment of this kind succeed. Perhaps the knowledge that such an experiment does succeed in one place may spur people to try the same thing in other places.

* * *

SOMEONE HAS written me that, in a recent column, I left the impression that only in the South and in Washington, D. C., was racial discrimination practiced. I would not like to have any one think that. I am completely aware that discrimination is practiced to a lesser or greater degree all over our country. Therefore, it is the concern of all good people everywhere to back efforts of all kinds which create better understanding and prove that racial co-operation is possible.

It's an Idea

By Vera

All her life a young friend of ours had wanted a merry-go-round horse for her very own. Such yearning possibly stemmed from childhood memories. Anyhow, when a friend sent her a discarded one as a surprise gift, she scarcely knew what to with it after all.

But today it rests happily at the edge of her garden near an outdoor fireplace. Give a fresh coat of white paint—she gave it a shining black mane and tail and "dappled" it with red strawberries with green leaves—it stands ready with a generous-sized tray on its back to act as server for a glass-topped table and chairs.

THE adertising manager of the Waddewill Hoot-Owl resented a slur made at the Rotary luncheon on the pulling power of his gazette. "Look at Josh Seekins," he demanded. "On Tuesday he advertised in the Hoot-Owl for a night watchman. On Wednesday he was robbed!"

A NIGHT-CLUB COMIC explained a black eye to be the result of a tiff with his brawny bride. "I gave her a beautiful diamond ring for her birthday," he lamented. "Now it turns out she wants to keep it."

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

YOU will be smart to do something every now and then to impress your family or guests with your culinary ability. With some adventure in your makeup and a little skill in your possession, you won't find it too difficult. Dramatic, delicious food starts pleasant table talk, and what could be more harmless refreshment for one's egos? Today we tell you how to give a new twist to a well-known, taken-for-granted food to add the needed flourish. A way with meringues to make them spectacular is to bake the mixture in mounds just like cream puffs instead of shaping them in the form of cups. When such mounds are baked, cooled and split in half and a scoop of ice cream is hidden between the halves, and then the whole thing is drowned in luscious lemon sauce, that really is a concoction that will get explored and be given publicity. The name Rio Grande Sunshine is also intriguing.

Meringue Shells.

Two egg whites, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cream of tartar, one-half cup sugar.

Have egg whites warmed to room temperature. Add salt and cream of tartar and beat until mixture forms rounding peaks. Beat in sugar in portions of one tablespoon at a time and continue beating until sugar is dissolved and the mixture forms glossy soft peaks. Shape into mounds on ungreased heavy wrapping paper or other unglazed paper on a baking sheet. A pastry bag is useful in shaping meringues. Bake in a very slow oven (250 degrees F.) for 30 minutes for soft shells; bake one hour for dry, faintly browned shells. At the end of the baking period, turn off the heat and allow the meringues to remain in the oven until they cool. Serve split in half with ice cream and lemon sauce.

Lemon Sauce.

One cup sugar, two teaspoons cornstarch, two cups boiling water, two egg yolks, three tablespoons lemon juice, one half teaspon finely grated lemon peel, one half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons butter, few grains nutmeg.

Blend sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Slowly stir in boiling water to keep smooth. Simmer for five minutes, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add a little of this hot sauce to the beaten egg yolk blended with the lemon juice, stir vigorously then add this yolk mixture to sauce and cook one minute longer, stirring thoroughly. Remove from heat, add lemon juice and butter. Stir to blend. Add a sifting of nutmeg over sauce after it has been poured over dessert or add directly to sauce. Eight to nine servings.

Note: If you have sauce left, refrigerate and serve on cottage pudding, vanilla blanc mange or rice.

Low Cost Menus.

SUNDAY.

BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas with sugar and cream, waffles with butter and heated syrup, sausage patties.

DINNER: Roast loin of pork, browned potatoes, applesauce, succotash, molded gelatin vegetable salad, bread and butter, Rio Grande sunshine dessert.

SUPPER: Salad of lettuce-tomato-cubed cheese, diced liver sausage and watercress with French dressing, hot buttered toast, frozen fruit cup.

Strawberry Jam

One pint basket (two cups) ripe strawberries, one and three-fourths cups sugar.

Pick over strawberries and hull. Put in a colander or strainer and wash under cold running water; drain. Place in a medium-sized saucepan and mash with a potato masher. Add sugar and mix well. Place over high or medium heat and, stirring constantly to dissolve sugar, bring to a boil. Lower heat if necessary but keep boiling gently, stirring frequently, until thickened. Pour into a heat-proof container and cool. If not used immediately cover and keep in refrigerator.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

A TOO-GREAT affection for high cards—particularly high trumps—has cost countless declarers an incalculable number of tricks! Here is one more case:

South, dealer.

East-West vulnerable.

|  | NORTH |  |
|---|---|---|
|  | ♠A64♥Q1053♦KJ764♣3 |  |
| WEST♠—♥87642♦Q9853♣KQ10 |  | EAST♠K752♥AKJ9♦A10♣764 |
|  | SOUTH♠QJ10983♥—♦2♣AJ9852 |  |

The bidding:

| South. | West. | North. | East. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 3♠ | Pass | 4♠ | Double |
| Pass | Pass | Pass |  |

West opened the club king. (As it happened, this should have been very favorable for the declarer). South won with the ace and immediately ruffed a club with the spade four, then led a low heart from dummy and ruffed East's nine with the spade three. Now another club lead drove out the last defensive stopper, but South made a very bad mistake when he ruffed this trick in dummy. Presumably, he did not want to "waste" the spade ace, and so ruffed with the six. Naturally, this held the trick, but now when he cashed the spade ace and learned that all four missing trumphs had been held by East, matters took a highly unfavorable turn. South had to use another of his own trumps to get to his hand, and this reduced him to East's trump length. After ruffing another heart, South led the spade queen, but East won and continued with hearts. Very soon, South discovered that he had to give up four tricks to East and acknowledge defeat.

The result would have been very different if declarer had logically ruffed the third round of clubs (when he saw West's queen fall) with the spade ace! Now with five trumps left in the closed hand, he could lead the spade six and in that way knock out East's king without being shortened in trumps. Instead of going down one, declarer would have made an overtrick, losing only one spade and one diamond.

Measles May Be Serious, Says Doctor

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

MEASLES is a common disease which everyone takes for granted and assumes is not serious. It is probably true that anyone seldom dies from measles. However, measles should be taken seriously because of the complications which may result in permanent impairment to one's health.

The complications of measles represent its real danger. These complications are many and varied such as pneumonia, infected ears, inflammation of the eyes, nervous affections, and certain other infectious diseases like diphtheria. Measles should always be treated as a serious illness, especially in young children. While there is no sure preventive or vaccination against measles, it can be modified or made milder by injections of a type of protein substance which causes some reaction in the patient.

QUESTION: "Will you discuss multiple sclerosis?"

Answer: Multiple sclerosis is a disease in which there are many small areas of degeneration (with resulting scar formation) scattered throughout the central nervous system. This disease occurs most often between the ages of 20 and 40, and while its exact cause is not known, it is often associated with infections, injuries, pregnancy, cold damp climate, emotional disturbances, etc.

Since multiple sclerosis affects so many different parts of the nervous system, the symptoms are usually those of a nervous disorder and vary widely. Pain usually does not occur. Tremor of the hands, disturbance of speech, disordered gait, fatigue, double vision, bladder disturbances, etc. are common symptoms of this disease.

* * *

A TENDENCY for the disease to subside and then reappear is characteristic. Since the cause of multiple sclerosis is not known, there is no specific treatment. A very important part of the treatment might be described as morale building.

Another important part of the treatment is the recognition and avoidance of the precipitating factors in order to prevent relapse or recurrences. Many of the individual symptoms can be treated by specific drugs, but this type of treatment only alleviates the patient's distress, and does not cure the disease.
